

U. S. Fleet to Stay in China Waters Duration of War; Japanese Framing Reply

British Instruct Their Ambassador to Japan to Make Strong Representations Against Non-military Objective Bombings.

HANKOW BOMBED

Nine Japanese Planes Attack Great Port — Worst Cholera Epidemic Sweeps Shanghai.

Washington, Sept. 24 (AP)—The United States navy served formal notice today that its Asiatic fleet will remain in Chinese waters "as long as the present controversy between China and Japan exists."

From London, Sir Robert L. Craigie, British ambassador to Japan, was instructed today to make strong representations against the Japanese government against the bombing of non-military objectives by Japanese air forces in China.

Framing Reply

Tokyo, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Japanese foreign office spokesman announced today that an official reply to the United States protest against aerial bombardment of Hankow was in preparation.

Two days ago the United States protested against a Japanese warning that foreigners should evacuate the Chinese capital for their own safety, terming such a warning impractical and sharply challenging attacks on non-combatants and non-military establishments as inhuman.

An official source said "fresh precautionary orders" had been issued to Japanese airmen this week and that the Tokyo government was "absolutely certain that bombers were exerting every care to limit their bombardments to military establishments in Hankow."

These precautionary moves, it was said, however, would not "necessarily" form the basis of Japan's reply to the protest.

About the same time, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, told the Japanese cabinet the government would not send delegates to the League of Nations advisory committee which is seeking a way to curb or end the Sino-Japanese conflict.

This apparently was Japan's rejection of the advisory committee's invitation early this week. The Geneva group sought representation by China, Japan, Australia and Germany in its discussions of the Chinese accusation of Japan as an aggressor nation.

The United States is represented on the committee by a "consultative" non-voting member.

Hankow Bombed

Shanghai, Sept. 24 (AP)—Nine Japanese planes today bombed Hankow, the great port of the middle Yangtze river valley, killing approximately 100 persons and wounding twice as many.

The raiders, apparently trying to destroy the big army arsenal in Hanyang, dropped three large bombs on crowded city districts, two in the river near the British consulates and others in the surrounding country. About 100 buildings were damaged.

Hankow is 600 miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai. Hanyang is separated from the main city by the Han river. These two cities, with Wuhan, across the Yangtze, make up the Wuhan area, greatest commercial and industrial community of central China.

In Shanghai, the worst cholera epidemic in the city's history was reported spreading through Japanese army units attacking Chinese defense lines to the north-west.

Some 200 Japanese troops were said to have died of the dread plague in the Paoshan sector, 20 miles north of Shanghai. An additional 300 have been definitely established to have the disease.

Chinese military authorities reported that a fierce three-day battle at Lotien, just a few miles toward Shanghai from Paoshan, had wiped out five of the six battalions in the Japanese Takashi detachment.

The Japanese detachment lost more than 400 men and huge stores of arms and ammunition in the single night of September 21, the Chinese declared.

Paoingfu Surrounded
Peiping, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Japanese army completely surrounded the strategic Chinese base of Paoingfu, 80 miles south of here, today and issued an ultimatum to the Chinese army to surrender or be annihilated.

The Japanese high command reported the 50-foot high walls of the ancient city of 100,000 people had been breached in a dawn attack. The second Chinese division, commanded by Cheng Tunc-Kuo, manning the wall, was said to be fighting desperately but the continuous Japanese artillery bombardment was too much for it.

In mid-afternoon Japanese military authorities here announced

LIEUT. E. A. STEUDING.

First Lieutenant Ernest A. Steuding, commanding officer of Headquarters Battery and Commandant Train, 156th F. A., N. Y., since June 16, 1936, has been relieved of that command and transferred to the post of commanding officer of Battery A, effective October 1.

First Lieutenant Harold V. Clayton, who temporarily commanded the battery during the summer and since the withdrawal of Captain James P. Byrne, will act as executive officer of Battery A.

First Lieutenant Frederick L. Coombs, executive officer of Headquarters Battery since March 21, 1934, will be the new commanding officer of that battery effective October 1.

The above orders were issued at the regimental headquarters of the 156th F. A. at Newburgh and were received at the local armory yesterday.

Lieut. Steuding enlisted in Headquarters Battery on March 14, 1928, and served in the ranks in the communication detail under Capt. Carlton S. Preston, from March 10, 1931, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in Headquarters Battery, serving under the same command, on the reconnaissance section. On June 30, 1932, Lieut. Steuding was transferred to Battery A as executive officer under the then Lieut. Byrne, commanding. On June 8, 1933, he was commissioned a first lieutenant, serving as executive officer under Capt. Byrne. He was then transferred back to Headquarters Battery on February 28, 1935, to the position of executive officer of that battery under Capt. Preston. On June 16, 1936, Lieut. Steuding took command of Headquarters Battery, relieving Capt. Preston. Since that time he has served as battery commander and battalion staff officer under Major R. M. Rosen of Poughkeepsie, commanding officer of the First Battalion, 156th F. A., who will be his immediate commanding officer in his new assignment.

Lieut. Coombs enlisted in Headquarters Battery as a private in January 10, 1923, under Capt. Preston, and served in the ranks until he was commissioned a second lieutenant on March 21, 1924, and served as executive officer of the battery continuously, except for a brief period prior to Lieut. Steuding's taking command of the battery, until his appointment as commanding officer. He was commissioned a first lieutenant on June 15 of this year. Like Lieut. Steuding, Lieut. Coombs' immediate commanding officer is Major Rosen, and like the former he is a staff officer of the first battalion.

Filene Condition Same

Paris, Sept. 23 (AP)—Physicians attending Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant seriously ill with pneumonia, said today his condition was unchanged. They declared that toxic complications which threatened Thursday thus far have been checked. Filene was taken ill on his way to London last Saturday and was brought to the American hospital here.

Ready for Christmas

Washington, Sept. 24 (AP)—It's only three months until Christmas, so the postoffice department is getting ready for handling the holiday mail. Postmasters are sending in estimates for extra Christmas help and equipment.

New York, Sept. 24 (AP)—Daniel J. Doherty, stocky Woburn, Mass., attorney and veteran of the navy, took command of the American Legion today with a promise there would be no "raids on the national treasury during the next year."

Speaking just before he sailed for France at midnight to take part in the veterans' pilgrimage to World War battlefields, the newly elected national commander likewise counseled legionnaires to take their stands on labor controversies "as private citizens, not as legionnaires."

The American Legion and each individual legionnaire must preserve law and order when called upon by the legal authorities," Doherty said. He specified, however, that "no individual post or department has the right to decide who is right or wrong in such disputes."

The new commander said the Legion's policies will be carried out by the national executive committee according to the dictates of the convention, but added that: "First of all, the promotion of Americanism will be my objective. Secondly, I will come placing the wives of veterans on the same level as wives of veterans of previous wars in receiving pensions. There will be, however, no 'raids on the national treasury' for further pensions."

Doherty was elected at the closing session of the Legion's convention after a lively contest with Ray Kelly of Detroit. The election was made unanimous on Kelly's motion after the roll call gave Doherty a majority. He succeeds Harry W. Colmery, Topeka, Kas.

Chaplain Chosen

The Rev. Frank J. Lawler, Jacksonville, Ill., a Catholic priest who served in the trench artillery during the war, was elected chaplain by unanimous vote on the motion of an opponent, the Rev. John Delamy, Massena, N. Y.

Most of the estimated half million Legion visitors departed New York settled back into a workaday existence that held in the immediate future nothing more exciting than an election, the Notre Dame-Army football game and a few other minor thrills.

Street cars once more moved unobstructed through Times Square, the tracks clear of nonchalant legionnaires. Railroad stations and hotel lobbies echoed no more to the blast of bugle and rolling beat of drum.

The Legion had blasted New York's assumption that no convention could cause more than a ripple in its day-to-day surface; it had smacked overy crowd and celebration records right and left.

For instance: The 625 tons of paper swept from Fifth avenue and Times Square after the Legion parade on Tuesday was more than six times the size of the cleanup after the welcome to Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from his flight to Paris.

Telephone Traffic

The city's telephone traffic on Monday—8,352,900 calls—exceeded that on any other Monday in city history, with the possible exception of the Monday following the Wall Street crash in 1929.

Subway traffic on parade day totaled 2,000,433 fares—2,555,186 above normal for the day.

Yet, with all the footloose and general spirit of fun, hotel men uncrossed their fingers and generally agreed that the Legion would be welcome anytime.

"We had less damage during the last four days than we have had from some of our football crowds," said the manager of one hotel that was host to 2,500 veterans.

Seven hotels that were whirlpools of Legion mirthmaking reported a total property casualty list of one cracked pane of glass in one elevator, one seat knocked out of one cane-bottomed chair, one lobby window broken by crowd pressure.

WILDER DAWSON FINED $5 IN POLICE COURT

Wilder Dawson, a negro of Van Buren street, who has just served five days in the county jail on a public intoxication charge, was fined $5 this morning in police court when he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct in knocking on the doors and windows of the home of Caroline Rossi on Cedar street. Vincent Ferraro of Glasgow, arrested on a charge of failing to observe a full stop sign at Grand street and Foxhall avenue, was given a suspended sentence.

Temporarily Deranged

Toledo, O., Sept. 24 (AP)—Police saw today in the shooting of Miss June Mapes, 53, Arlington school principal, by Robert Snyder, 12-year-old pupil, the picture of a boy temporarily deranged by hallucinations of "toughness as a gangster."

Duce Promises No More Soldiers To Assist Franco

By The Associated Press

London, Sept. 24—An authoritative source asserted today Premier Mussolini had promised Britain and France he would send no more "volunteers" to Spain, making possible Italian entrance in the Anglo-French diplomatic front and a new balance of power for Europe.

While Britain and France were keenly anxious to accept Italy's advances at face value they could not help but look for a possible snag. A definite feeling of optimism prevailed in foreign office circles but it was tempered by a slight suspicion of Duce's motives in presenting such a startling assurance regarding Spain.

His sudden willingness to promise that no further troops should be sent to aid the Spanish insurgents—coming on the heels of his departure for an important conference with Chamberlain of Germany—caused many observers to wonder whether Italy was preparing some new and surprising move.

Some British observers—and Rome dispatches bore this out—were frankly considering Mussolini's gestures of cooperation with France and England as a method of strengthening his position to drive a harder bargain with Hitler.

The authoritative British source said that Italy had given both Britain and France a definite promise: no more Italian troops would go to Spain if the three powers could agree, among other things, on Italian demands for parity with Britain and France in the Mediterranean anti-piracy accord reached at Nyon.

Agreement Expected

This agreement was expected to be reached without difficulty in technical talks in Paris next week among experts of the three countries.

Bova Scoppa, the Italian minister to Switzerland, was said to have made the Italian promise to French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos at Geneva Wednesday in one of the most momentous diplomatic conferences in recent years.

Reliable sources said that Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Italian foreign minister, reaffirmed the promise in Rome to the British charge d'affaires, E. M. B. Ingram. As a result, they said, "a satisfactory solution to the Spanish problem is in sight."

Italy and Germany, aligned in Rome-Berlin diplomatic axis, have recognized the regime headed by insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco as the true government of Spain.

The fact that the Italian gesture involved a reversal of Rome's hitherto "aggressive policy" caused some British observers to believe it might have been dictated by Mussolini's wish to show Hitler that he did not have to rely on German friendship alone. But Italy remained aloof from Britain and France, others pointed out, he would have found it harder to resist any demands Hitler might make, including realization of Nazi ambitions in Austria, as the price of German support.

In other words, as a diplomat source in Rome phrased it, an Italian approach with France and Britain would save Mussolini from appealing to Hitler some what like Europe's last boy asking for help.

Fireman F. Finkle Dies in Kingston Hospital Today, 3rd Victim of Train Crash

Boyce Dies at Kingston Hospital Of Fractured Skull

Egbert R. Boyce, 58, of 626 Broadway, died Thursday afternoon at the Kingston Hospital from injuries which he suffered that morning about 7 o'clock when a car in which he was a passenger was in collision with a truck and a half north of Highland on route 9-W. His death brought to a total of 25 Ulster county's list of motor car fatalities since the first of the year. Mr. Boyce died of a fractured skull.

Employed as lead butcher at the Bull Market, Mr. Boyce was on his vacation this week and with Edward Hinkley, Jr., driver of the car, Walter Wilson and four-year-old Bruce Hinkley was driving south in the Hinkley Ford sedan when out of the fog appeared a Dodge truck of Joseph Rosset of Latham, driven by James H. Holsinger. The car, on the two strip concrete and sidewalked, The Ford was spun around on the pavement and the truck, its brakes ineffective because of a broken brake line, continued on up the pavement and was finally driven off the road in to a bank without injury to the occupants.

Mr. Boyce was brought to the Kingston Hospital after being treated by Dr. Carl P. Meekins and Hinkley was also brought to the hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the arm. Wilson was slightly injured and the little boy escaped injury. Sergeant Hubert of Highland stated that at the time there was a heavy fog.

Boyce's Survivors
Beside his wife, Helen, Hinkley has two sons, Gordon and Edward, both in the navy. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Boyce, one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain, all of Kingston, and five brothers, James, Adele, Henry and Ray, all of Kingston and John, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Mr. Boyce was a member of the Men's Progressive Social Club and Jolly Get-together Club of this city.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the funeral home of J. J. Murphy, 167 Tupper avenue. Burial will be in Riverdale Cemetery, Port Jervis.

The death of Mr. Boyce is the fourth within 10 days in the county from motor car accidents. On September 13 Albert Parkoski, of Port Jervis, was struck near the Walker gas station on Route 9-W south of Port Jervis and fatally injured. September 18, Mrs. Norman Blyden, of Marlborough, was struck by a car at Marlborough as she was attempting to cross Route 9-W near her home in the village and the following day, September 19, George Lewis, of Kingston, who was fatally injured in a car crash at Sawkill, died.

WOULD MAKE LEHMAN DELEGATE-AT-LARGE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—New York Democratic leaders sought today to draft the party's three-term Governor Herbert H. Lehman as a delegate-at-large candidate to the 1938 constitutional convention.

Assembled for a state committee meeting to nominate a 15-member slate for submission to the November electorate, the party's high command put the "pressure" on the successor to President Roosevelt as New York's chief executive after he indicated he would not seek a seat.

The November electorate will choose a state senate, dominated the past two years by Republicans, and elect 15 delegates from each of the state's 61 senatorial districts to the convention to revise the state's organic law.

The draft movement dispelled earlier suggestions among party members that Lehman's criticism of President Roosevelt's proposal for supreme court reorganization may have engendered opposition to his selection.

Leaders declined to discuss other possible nominees as delegates-at-large, pending arrival of Postmaster General James A. Farley, state and national chairman, who had been for the state committee meeting (11:30 a. m. EST) from New York city after attending a boxing carnival.

Selects Delegates

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—The Democratic state committee nominated unanimously today 15 delegates at large to the 1938 state constitutional convention after hearing "with regret" the party's three-term governor, Herbert H. Lehman, would not accept designation.

Lehman, who was attending a boxing carnival at Kingston, was not present at the meeting.

Ellenville to Have $105,000 Post Office

The treasury department of Washington is soliciting proposals for a site for the new post office which is planned to be erected in Ellenville at a cost of $105,000.

The bids will be opened in the office of the postmaster in Ellenville at 9 o'clock the morning of October 4. A number of prospective sites for the new post office have been named since it was learned that the village was to have a new post office building.

LA GUARDIA WON'T ALLOW PATROLMEN TO BE GIGGLES

New York, Sept. 24 (AP)—Mayor LaGuardia does not intend to take a chance on transforming funny policemen into giggles. Nor does he care for the prospect of seeing them dance the tango with "dizzy dancers."

And so he acted yesterday a bill which would have authorized the detailing of men from the police club to act as special policemen to guard payrolls, bonds and other personal property.

"Suppose a dizzy dancer were to couple with a special patrol man and, suppose further, that in the course of his police duty in guarding her precious jewels, he should order him to dance the tango at the various night clubs with her," the mayor pondered.

"When does his duty as a policeman end and his obligation as a 'tango companion' begin?" the mayor asked in an eight-hour shift.

Bolter Hearing Today

Gus Bolter, 31, was apprehended at Cedar River in the Adirondacks by members of "G" Troop N. Y. State Police and held under a warrant for Ulster county authorities. Thursday Deputy Pleasant Vredenburg went to Lake Pleasant and picked up Bolter who was lodged in the county jail until today when he will be given a hearing before Justice Melvin D. Schoonmaker. The charge is a violation of Section 1292-a and a crossing out of a check transaction.

Bolter was employed at a lumber camp in the Adirondacks when he was apprehended.

Absolved Of Blame

Following the tragedy, Coroner Leaton H. DuBois of New Paltz, held an inquest in Kingston in which a number of witnesses were examined. He has recently filed his report in which he found that the deaths of Firemen Carey and DeWitt were not due to culpable or criminal negligence.

The driver of the fire truck was proceeding through a heavy rain without the protection of a windshield on the fire truck. Coroner DuBois also held in his report that the railroad crossing is not properly and adequately guarded or sufficiently lighted to be clearly visible in inclement weather.

The Broadway crossing tragedy, which has now resulted in the deaths of three members of the Kingston Fire Department, again aroused interest in the elimination of the Broadway crossing, as well as other railroad crossings in the city, and at the meeting of the common council on Tuesday evening, September 21, the council unanimously approved a plan prepared by City Engineer James N. Norton which would eliminate the railroad crossings in the city at a total cost of $1,373,500. This plan was submitted to the council in response to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the aldermen at the July meeting directing the city engineer to prepare plans and estimated cost of total grade crossing elimination in the city. At the September meeting the council unanimously adopted a resolution directing Corporation

Driver of Fire Truck Which Crashed into Train on May 15 Succumbs to Operation at 8:30 a. m.

HONORABLE RECORD

Death Follows Coroner's Verdict Absolving Him of Blame for Tragedy.

Fireman Ferrill F. Finkle of the Kingston Fire Department, died in the Kingston Hospital about 8 o'clock this morning, following an operation he underwent last Friday.

Fireman Finkle's death is the third death in the tragedy of the early Saturday morning on May 15, when one of the city's fire trucks, driven by Finkle, crashed into a West Shore railroad train on the Broadway crossing during a driving rain storm. Firemen Preston DeWitt and Peter Carey, who were riding on the rear of the fire truck died of injuries received a short time later in the Kingston Hospital, while Fireman Richard Smith who was sitting alongside of Fireman Finkle escaped with a severe shaking.

Fireman Finkle who was critically injured lay in the Kingston Hospital for several weeks and finally had recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home, although he was not able to return to active duty at the Central Fire Station. Last Friday he went to the hospital to undergo an operation made necessary by the imperfect healing of a bone in the chest near the collarbone. The operation was not considered a serious one. Fireman Finkle was apparently recovering from the effects of the operation when pneumonia and other complications set in and his condition rapidly grew serious.

Served Many Years
Fireman Finkle had been a member of the paid fire department of the city for a number of years. He was appointed a substitute fireman on February 25, 1916, and became a regular on November 16, 1919. He was a veteran of the World War, becoming a member of old Company M in June of 1917, and was transferred late to the 51st Pioneer Infantry, with which organization he served overseas. He was later promoted to the rank of corporal and on July 15, 1919, he received his honorable discharge from the army, and in November of that year was appointed a regular member of the fire department which position he held at the time of his death.

Fireman Finkle was considered one of the most efficient members of the paid fire department. At the time of the tragedy on the Broadway crossing last May, he was driving one of the city's fire trucks back to the Central Fire Station from the Creamery building fire on Downs street. A driving rain storm was in progress at the time and he did not hear or see the approaching train until it was too late.

The fire truck crashed into the train and was carried along the tracks for a distance of about 100 feet. Firemen DeWitt and Carey were riding on the rear step and were hurled off as train and truck came together, dying later in the hospital. Fireman Smith miraculously escaped serious injury, but Finkle was picked up badly injured and rushed to the hospital where he remained for some time.

Absolved Of Blame
Following the tragedy, Coroner Leaton H. DuBois of New Paltz, held an inquest in Kingston in which a number of witnesses were examined. He has recently filed his report in which he found that the deaths of Firemen Carey and DeWitt were not due to culpable or criminal negligence.

The driver of the fire truck was proceeding through a heavy rain without the protection of a windshield on the fire truck. Coroner DuBois also held in his report that the railroad crossing is not properly and adequately guarded or sufficiently lighted to be clearly visible in inclement weather.

Snyder Sizes Up World Situation For Kiwanis Club

Reiterating many of the remarks made the day before to members of Rotary Club, Frederick Snyder, well known international lecturer, spelled out his listeners at Kiwanis Club Thursday noon with a rapid survey of "inside information" and a few predictions for good measure, to make a meeting all present will long remember.

Previous to Mr. Snyder's address, President William Byrne announced that Roger Loughran has been chosen lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district. The election transpired at the recent state convention at which both Mr.

Byrne and Mr. Loughran were delegates. Lecturer Snyder opened his remarks with a survey of the world situation in contrast to the Christian. He recalled the incident in which a ranking naval officer of the United States had sold confidential military secrets to the Japanese Embassy at Washington and was convicted of this charge. "I submit," charged the speaker, "that if this officer sold these secrets to some Japanese must have corrupted his mind, and consequently the Japanese ambassador should be evicted from Washington."

It was Mr. Snyder's contention that the Japanese people are not wholeheartedly behind the government's actions, but that the military was the sparkplug in Japanese events the last few years. "The people also believe their emperor is a god and what he says is the law in everyone's mind," he continued. "There are only 120,000 Christians in Japan," he stated, "and consequently any appeal to the military to fight or act in a Christian-like manner is laughed at."

"England and the United States are waiting for Japan to weaken itself and when that time comes the nations will strike. If they don't England will lose Australia and the United States, Alaska," he continued. It was Mr. Snyder's contention that Japan was attempting a world conquest for Asiatic supremacy and that sooner or later the issue would force both the United States and England into the cauldron as a protective measure. Incidentally, Mr. Snyder suggested that we give Alaska to England and withdraw from this territorial possession and devote our time toward protecting the west coast of the United States, which the speaker said, "could be bombed easily by modern Japanese planes from an aircraft carrier such as is being used by the Japanese against China."

He closed his survey of the far east situation with several personal experiences and the rough treatment he received in Manchoukuo, recalled to show the oriental temperament. Next Mr. Snyder directed his remarks toward the war in Spain and depicted some of the horrors he saw and the ruthlessness of the fighting. "If anyone wins in Spain it will be Franco," he opined, "and I believe that his cause is the more just of the two." He suggested that England was diplomatically interested in Franco in an effort to prevent the spread of Russian influence and that the success of communism in Spain would be a catastrophe for European trade and shipping. "The Spanish people aren't really fighting this war, the Spanish war is a war of European nations with Spain as the battlefield," continued the speaker.

A verbal trip was paid briefly to England and a letter there convinced Mr. Snyder that "England has already mentally lost Gibraltar and will actually lose it after the Spanish war concludes. In its place Mr. Snyder believes that England will have a huge floating fortress which can be moved as the occasion may demand."

An aside on the Duke of Windsor brought the relation that "Edward had not properly appraised the English mind, else he would never have needed to abdicate. He is really a boy yet, playing around in international romps and he romped too far," declared Mr. Snyder.

In closing the speaker asked his listeners to keep an eye on the news and correlate it and by putting two and two together they would be able to find the "four" of international intrigue which so infests the world today.

Tulips for Cutting Garden

This Lovely Planting of Tulips Serves the Dual Purpose of Being Beautiful and Useful. It is a Cutting Garden.

Flower shows each year exhibit the magnificence of the long stemmed Darwin tulip for cutting. Great vases of these handsome tulips grace all the shows and they are bedded as well in the garden exhibits. They are the most graceful and colorful of all the spring bulbs. One can't have his cake and eat it. He can't have his tulips to beautify the garden and border and cut them lavishly for bouquets in the house.

As they are the finest cutting material of their season, reserve beds for this purpose are needed. So that the ornamental plantings need not be marred by cutting, tulips take up little ground. From a few rows in the vegetable garden or other convenient portions of the domain will furnish an ample supply for vases. The cheap way to get a supply of Darwin tulips is to buy the mixtures of the hundred. As bouquets are often very effectively made with several colors, the mixed colors are admirable for the purpose. The favorite combination consists of the pink and rose sorts with the lilac tones.

Bouquets of a single color are most effective. The favorite colors may be selected for the cutting purpose.

PLANT SCILLA, CROCUS, OTHER SMALL BULBS NOW

By the Master Gardener

There is a mistaken idea among some gardeners that all of the spring blooming bulbs should be planted as late as October and November. This is true of the tulip and hyacinth, but with the crocus, snowdrops, scilla, glory-of-the-snow and other small, very early blooming bulbs, as well as the narcissus, September planting is preferable. Such bulbs do better if they have a little extra time for root development.

The very early blooming small bulbs are often neglected, but they provide such cheery spots of color in the spring that everyone should be sure to plant as many as the garden budget will allow.

These small bulbs have such varied uses. To plant them in shady spots, crocus and dogtooth violet are especially good for this purpose. The scilla, snowdrops, winter aconites, and crocuses make a beautiful showing planted about the base of trees. The crocus, snowdrops, scilla, and glory-of-the-snow are very suitable for naturalizing in the lawn, but be sure to pick a section of turf which need not be mowed early, as the foliage must ripen before the grass is cut, else the bulbs will suffer. Scilla, snowdrops, winter aconites, and snowflakes are suitable for a north border under evergreen trees, glory-of-the-snow, winter aconite and snowdrops will do well.

The crocus, winter aconite, snowdrop, snowflake, and glory-of-the-snow and scilla should be planted at a depth of about 3 inches. Narcissus should be planted at a depth of 6 inches. The planting site of bulbs must be well drained, lightened with sand, and enriched with a good complete balanced plant food. See that no air spaces are left beneath the bulbs.

COTTESKILL

Cotteskill, Sept. 24 — Starting Sunday, Sunday school will convene at 1:30 p. m. and church service 2:30 o'clock for the winter.

The School Aid will hold its meeting at the schoolhouse Thursday afternoon, September 30, at the close of school hours. This being the first meeting of the year, a good attendance is desired.

The Cotteskill Volunteer Fire Co. will hold a card party in the firehouse Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dupuy, son, Arthur, and her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Smodes, of Kingston, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wells Stanley and family in Albany.

WHAT FLOWERS TO CUT FROM GARDEN AND HOW

To cut or not to cut is an oft raised question in the garden these days, when flowers are needed in the living room, and in the garden picture too. It makes us wish we had started that cutting garden we talked of, but didn't quite manage.

If it is the well being of the flowers that concerns us, here is a good rule to follow. Cut the annuals, but leave the perennials to themselves. With few exceptions annuals are benefited by cutting. Their season is so short that their whole energy is taken up with producing seed before they are cut. In and of course should be allowed to ripen, there will be no more blooms.

The perennial story is a different one. Their growing jobs do not emphasize seed production so much, because they have more time. They also do not produce as many flowers, and if we cut them, their season is over for the year. There are a few exceptions, however, such as delphinium, pyrethrum and sweet william, although even these are not benefited by cutting. They are practically all of the annuals.

How to cut flowers sounds too elementary to some, but we can all be reminded that a sharp tool, and a clean cut will mean continued healthy growth for the plant, while crushed stems and stirred or uprooted roots means no more flowers.

When we cut the flowers once they are cut is another story, and one which varies as much as the temperature. For the most part, all stories about preservatives, such as aspirin and salt, can be discounted, if not completely ignored. No such preparation has much basis scientifically. The main considerations are a plentiful supply of water, and a "comfortable" atmosphere—one without direct sunlight and without extremes of temperature.

Change water twice a day when it is hot and dry, and when the arrangement calls for a small quantity of water.

Here are a few suggestions which will be helpful. Dahlias and poppies, the latter one of the most fragile of flowers, will last longer if their stems are dipped for a second in boiling water. Glad should be cut when the first flower opens; the others will open for you indoors. Keep your flowers in the ice box overnight if practicable.

Nearly one-half of the total farm acreage of the state comes under the 1937 agricultural conservation program, according to G. B. Robinson, in charge of compliance. Area of these farms is about 8,140,000 acres. More than 60,000 farmers, who operate 34 per cent of the farms, are taking part, they report. Farm land included in the program is about equally divided between crop land and non-crop land.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Beatty of Kingston called on their niece, Mrs. Oscar Beach, and family Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyers and daughter, June, of Kingston, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beach and family.

The annual chicken supper will be served in the church hall Thursday evening, October 21, from 5:30 o'clock until all are served.

17 New Members Join the Y.M.C.A. Drive Being Held

At the membership drive meeting in the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday, workers turned in the names of 17 recruits, not a large amount, but an encouraging figure for the first meeting. Another will be held Friday in the "Y."

General Superintendent E. J. Trowbridge, Jr., urged the division leaders to contact their workers and have them present at the meeting Friday. It will start at 6:30 p. m. "Although the goal of 200 new members is quite distant," said Mr. Trowbridge, "I am confident that we will have passed the halfway mark Friday. This organization is working and will put the job over in the same excellent manner as last spring."

The workers headed by R. H. Broughton and John Garon are ahead with 15 new members to date. Chester Baltz, Jr., and M. E. Hunsinger issued a challenge that on Friday night they would take away the division trophy.

Individual "Y" pins were given to H. L. Winters, DeWitt Wells and R. H. Broughton for having secured three members each to date.

"The Y. M. C. A. program is full of activities for men of all ages. Explain carefully and sell your prospect on the value of a membership in the Kingston Y. M. C. A.," urged General Secretary Robert L. Sisson.

According to the report of Chairman C. E. Wonderly of the Y. M. C. A. bowling committee the bowling alleys which have been put in splendid condition will present a fine surprise to the bowlers on Monday evening, September 27. Thomas Rowland of the Y. M. C. A. Mercantile League states that several new teams have signed up for the year.

Tentatively the bowling schedule is as follows: Monday, City League and open bowling, Tuesday, ladies up to 9 p. m., open bowling from then on; Wednesday, open bowling, Thursday and Friday, "Y" Mercantile League, and Saturday, open bowling.

Y. W. Planning Fall Rallies

Fall rallies are the order of the day for the younger members of the Y. W. C. A. with 207 Girl Reserves already registered at the first meeting of the 8 grade school clubs, one from each school district. Those from the downtown schools assembled at the association on Monday afternoon and those from the uptown schools held their rally on Tuesday.

On both occasions the girls enjoyed games and group singing, following which they discussed fall program plans. Next Monday and Tuesday they will hold separate club meetings at which time they will elect officers for the year.

The Blue Birds, the program for the small grade school children, will open on Saturday morning, when the children will meet at 10 o'clock for a recreation program. Girls in this group range from 8 to 10 years of age.

The freshmen high school club, the Live Y'er, will hold its rally next Wednesday at 3:45 p. m., and the sophomores will meet on Thursday evening at 7:15 p. m., for their first fall meeting. The Cheerio group for colored girls will meet on Thursday afternoon at 3:45, and plans are being worked out for the opening of the Tri Hi Club for the high school juniors and seniors.

Miss Eillian Hardman, girl reserve secretary, is executive of the department and she will be assisted by a corps of volunteer advisers. Club membership is open to all school girls of eight years of age and over, and new members are especially urged to join the club this coming week.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Sept. 24 — Choir rehearsal for the Reformed Church will be held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ericsson at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. All members of the choir and those desirous of joining the choir are urged to be present.

A social party will be held by the St. Remy fire department at their fire house on Thursday evening, September 30, at 8:15 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

The Dorcas Society will hold a card party in the Reformed Church house on Thursday evening, October 7.

I WISH MY HUSBAND HE SHOULD WOULD BURN "BLACK" STORK - IT GIVES FAR LESS ASH

Here's the Coal That Saves You Work and Wages

Your neighbors will tell you BLACK STORK has 10 to 26% less ash than most coals. That saves you work in ash-handling; saves your wages with more burnable coal to the ton.

BLACK STORK is the coal for economical heating. It's 99.77% slate-free so that every ton is all burnable coal. Then it burns so completely that you have 10 to 26% less ash. Scientific burning tests show that a ton of BLACK STORK has 700,000 more heat units than ordinary anthracite. Thus, for the same comfort, you use less coal by weight. Many users tell us they save 10 to 20% on their coal bills with BLACK STORK.

Phone us for a ton or half ton. Let this modern coal help you save.

Release Program Of Church Council At the Bridge City

The annual convention of the New York State Council of Churches and Christian Education for this section of the state, will be held at Poughkeepsie on October 1 in the Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church of which the Rev. Fred Stacey is pastor. Poughkeepsie and Dutchess county plan to be represented by 400 delegates, while another 600 are expected from the combined territories covered by Columbia, Westchester, Putnam, Rockland, Ulster, Orange, Washington, Rensselaer and Albany counties.

Pastors, church officials, church school officers and teachers, and the women of the churches, will have special seminars and discussion groups led by some of the nation's outstanding leaders in these fields. Echoes of the Oxford and Edinburgh Conferences abroad will be heard in the convention, the theme of which is "United Churches." The speakers will be: B. Nichols of the United States Department of Justice; Mary Alice Jones, children's specialist of Chicago; Dr. Harry Thomas Stock of Boston, nationally known leader of youth; the Rev. Gibson I. Daniels of Hartford; Miss Edith F. Walker of New York; Dr. Philip C. Jones of New York; and Dr. Mark Rich of Cornell University. There will be book and project exhibits for the various age groups, especially stressing the work with children and young people.

A women's luncheon will be addressed by an outstanding woman speaker and all church women are invited, and at 6 o'clock youth leaders are planning a great youth demonstration and banquet which will be addressed by Dr. Harry Thomas Stock.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Sept. 23—Dr. W. Barton Harris of Marlborough and Dr. John Manzella of Milton were appointed health examiners for the central school of the town of Marlborough at a meeting held last week. Dr. Harris and Dr. Manzella were the school doctors last year, the budget allows $400 for the total series of examinations, but each physician is paid at the rate of 50¢ per pupil. A small balance was left over last year. Dr. Manzella will have the Milton and Lattintown school and Dr. Harris will have the rest. Nothing has been done yet as to arranging for a school dentist. This matter will be attended to later.

Joseph Gaffney, newly elected tax collector for the Central School District, will begin collections of taxes in the Central District on September 26. Collections will be made by Mr. Gaffney at his home on the Lattintown road, opposite Manion's garage and also at the Marlborough and Milton banks and at the Lattintown general store. Dates for collection in the Marlborough Bank are September 24 and October 1; at Milton, September 23 and October 10, and at the Lattintown store October 6. The school budget for the year calls for the sum of $64,628.72 to be raised by taxation, and this makes the rate $42.83 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Plank and daughter spent Tuesday in New York city where they attended the American Legion parade. Mr. and Mrs. Plank will sail on Monday for Europe where they will attend the American Legion activities there. Shaft 5-A of the New York Water works in the West Marlborough neighborhood is now down 275 feet. 270 feet had been reached by the first of last week when drilling was suspended temporarily until an additional 15 feet could be cemented to keep the water out. This has now been done, and drilling has now been resumed. All work is now being done by electricity and compressed air pneumatic drills at this shaft and the other three which are being sunk by the Frazier & Davis Construction Co. Big electric hoists now carry the stone from the bottom of the shafts to the surface supplanting the steam-driven machinery which was first in use. Charles Brogan of Marlborough is in charge of the hoist of shaft 5-A.

William Conn attended the 14th annual reunion of the veterans who served in the World War with the 51st Pioneer Infantry at Hudson last Sunday. The business session was held in the state armory and started at 11 o'clock. Later a dinner was enjoyed in Bearcraft Inn.

Mrs. Olive Kniffin and father, Irving Clum, have returned from Asbury where they spent the week-end visiting Mrs. M. Sullivan and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter and Mrs. Martin Tompkins attended the Legion parade in New York on Tuesday.

The children of St. Mary's Parish are receiving instructions each Wednesday afternoon from the Rev. James Hanley, in preparation for confirmation which will be held in October. The class meets each week at 3:30 in St. Mary's Church.

Tabulation of the school census in the Central district shows 1099 children registered between the ages of birth and 18. There are 116 pupils in West Marlborough. There is about 26 more than was expected due to families living in that neighborhood due to having employment on the water works. The school officials made plans for 90 pupils.

Mrs. A. S. Ferguson and infant daughter, Carol, arrive home today from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Joseph McCourt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius McCourt, has received notification on that he has been awarded a scholarship to the school of law at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. Mr. McCourt was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree "cum laude" from Manhattan College in June.

The members of the local Epworth League, accompanied by the Rev. George Davies, motored to Walden last Tuesday evening to attend the Local Union of Leagues. The topic for the evening was "Missions." Each league was asked to bring food donations to be used in the mission work. A silver cup was awarded to the league bringing the largest donations and the Middle Hope group was the winner of the cup.

The second series of interesting studies of the Bible will be held at the home of Mrs. Frederic Goudy, Jr. These studies are held by the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church and will be held on Thursday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Goudy will be Mrs. E. C. Quimby, who is directing the study. Mrs. Grace Lent and Mrs. D. S. Hutchins.

relatives at Rockville Center, L. I. The members of the faculty of the Central School enjoyed a picnic on Wednesday afternoon at Bear Mountain. The trip was made in private cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Purdy, and family, spent Tuesday in New York city, where they attended the American Legion parade.

Mrs. Frank Hannigan has resumed her work after being ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Marks, for three weeks, due to a severe scalp infection caused by a burn.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Difficulties
Louisville, Ky.—The leap-year birthday question gave Louisville's social security office a puzzle. The subject was Frank C. Bray, born Feb. 29, 1912; age 16 if you count birthdays; 55 if you count just years. The office decided it by entering Bray's birth date as February 28 and granting him the lump old-age payment he asked.

Dog Gone
Dallas, Tex.—Bama, a Boston bulldog, fell into a manhole. While two patrolmen, summoned by Bama's owner, were on their hands and knees trying to retrieve the dog their radio squawked unintelligibly. They dashed to a telephone blocks away.

There a bat's down a manhole, headquarters, told them. "It's a bulldog," the officers snorted.

They returned to the rescue and found three police squad cars, some fire apparatus and 1000 spectators.

Bama was saved.

News

Schwenk Heads Model Railroaders Site Is Selected

The Hudson Valley Model Railroad Club met last night and elected John Schwenk as president and Henry P. Elghmey as secretary.

Four new members were added to the list, which now reads: John Schwenk, Henry P. Elghmey, Roy Shunk, August Snell, Henry M. Jones, Jr., Paul V. Werner, Dave Ellis, F. W. Gleisner and John Ralston.

The new organization also leased from the New York Central Railroad Company a building for use as a club house, where a scale model railroad system, 1/4 inch to the foot, will be laid out. The work of remodeling the club house will go forward immediately.

The name of the Hudson Valley Railroad was selected as the center for the rolling stock, and Wednesday evenings were set aside as the regular meeting nights for the club. The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday evening, September 29, at the new location on Broadway.

Quite some rolling stock is already available for the Hudson Valley Railroad, waiting for track on which to roll. Just as soon as the work of getting the club house ready for occupancy is completed, the right-of-way will be planned and track laying will begin. A Hudson type locomotive is ready for use and a Pacific type is partially finished, while negotiations are under way for a switch engine.

With an ideal location at its disposal and nine enthusiastic members ready for action, the Hudson Valley Model Railroad Club has a fine opportunity to take its place along with the foremost model clubs of New York state.

Daylight Saving Ends on Sunday

Daylight saving time ends at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, and householders should not forget to turn the hands of the clock back one hour before retiring for the night on Saturday. Daylight saving time went into effect here on April 25. Under the provisions of an ordinance adopted by the common council in March of 1921, Kingston automatically adopts daylight saving time each year until the ordinance is rescinded or repealed by the council.

In the Lighthouse district which covers the Mississippi river and its tributaries above New Orleans there are 4,500 miles of river marked by aids to navigation, lights, buoys and beacons in channels number 6,925.

WALLKILL

Wallkill, Sept. 24—The marriage of Fred Mahana, son of Mrs. Margaret Mahana of Wallkill, and Miss Phyllis Di Giovanni of Newark, N. J., will take place on Saturday afternoon, September 25, at 4 o'clock at St. Michael's Church, Newark, N. J. Mr. Mahana is an employee of the Wallkill Hat Manufacturing Company and they will reside in Wallkill.

On Monday evening a skimming-ton was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Sherwood. The newlyweds were given a ride to Walden and the plains road on the back of a "wrecker" car. They were also escorted by several other cars who continuously serenaded them.

Wallkill, Sept. 23—Girl Scout Troop 18 of Ulster county, opened the 1937-1938 year with a business meeting and informal party on Monday evening at the Scout Cabin, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Moore and Lieutenant Eleanor Roach and Lillian Crossley, for the coming year were elected as follows: Patrol I, Leader Marion Hammesfahr; Patrol II, Margaret Edsall and Patrol III, Beatrice Schoonmaker. Lois Morehouse was elected treasurer and Gertrude Christian, secretary. It was voted to hold troop meetings at the scout cabin every Monday evening, 7 to 8:30. After the business meeting, games were enjoyed and prizes won by Beatrice Schoonmaker and Marcella Runowich. Members are Frances Runowich, Marcella Runowich, Lois Morehouse, Beatrice Schoonmaker, Margaret Edsall, Wanda Gallick, Ernestine Rhodes, Gertrude Christian, Iris Caswell, Marion Hammesfahr, Evelyn Hopkins, Helen Crossley, Clara Crossley, Marion Birdsell, Marietta Bowden, Greta Bowden.

"Abe" Hannon left Wallkill two weeks ago, sailing from New York on the "Rex". He expects to arrive at Beirut, Syria, this week, where he will visit his sister. He may remain in Syria for more than a year.

Mrs. Jane R. Van Wyck and daughter, Helen, of West Nyack, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morehouse. Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wyck of the Plains Road, were also Saturday supper guests at the Morehouse home.

Mrs. Macey Van Wagenen, Mrs. Harry Dunn and daughter, Marjorie, are spending a few days at Fondra with relatives this week. Floyd Adams, a high school student, broke his leg while playing soccer on the Legion field on Monday afternoon.

Prentice Reeves, Jr., returned to Ohio State University at Columbus, O., on Tuesday, where he is a senior.

Miss Margaret Mills of Daytona Beach, Fla., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jansen.

Members of the American Legion and auxiliary of Cornelius Post, No. 1034, who attended the national legion convention this week, were Mr. and Mrs. John Yorks, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richter, Miss Edna Tice, Gilbert Tice, Chauncey McLean, Harry Morehouse and Samuel Bowden.

Mrs. L. S. Terwilliger, Mrs. L. C. Edsall, Fred Terwilliger, Richard Dunn, Alfred Crossley and Adam Ulrich were among others from Wallkill that were in New York on Tuesday and viewed the legion parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deyo and family of Hawthorne, N. J., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren V. Deyo.

Miss Katherine Lown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lown, and a graduate of class of 1937 of Wallkill High School, will enter Cornell this fall. She expects to leave Wallkill on Saturday.

Miss Jeanette Stauttner of Baldwin, L. I., and Miss Marion Dunbar spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stauttner.

As the result of 40-hour week legislation recently enacted in France, Saturday is now recognized as a legal holiday.

DUCE'S SON HERE FOR FILM STUDY

Minus the beard he grew while fighting in the Italo-Ethiopian war, Vittorio Mussolini, 20-year-old son of the Italian Duce, arrived in the United States aboard the Rex to study methods of U. S. film producers. He successfully dodged all attempts of anti-Fascists to stage demonstrations against him. Here he is taking his first look through an American movie camera.

Growing chickens need some form of vitamin A to make satisfactory growth. Birds allowed to range about the farm during the growing season usually pick up sufficient quantities of green feed, but birds confined or unable to get green feed should have some feed that is rich in vitamin A, say poultry specialists of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry. Alfalfa-leaf meal is one of the most economical sources of vitamin A, when all feeds must be purchased, and may serve as the sole source of this vitamin for growing chicks. Other common sources of vitamin A, in addition to green foods, are yellow corn and milk.

Federal Action in Potato Situation

The following communication from the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been received by the Bull Markets, Inc., in answer to the latter's telegram in regard to the potato situation:
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
Agricultural Adjustment Administration
Washington, D. C.
September 20, 1937
Bull Markets, Inc.,
Kingston, N. Y.
Gentlemen:
On August 13 the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation began purchases of surplus potatoes in order to relieve the distressing situation, which you summarized in your telegram of August 16. Through September 11, approximately 277 cars of New Jersey potatoes and 134 cars of Long Island potatoes of U. S. No. 1 grade were purchased for distribution to relief clients. We believe that these purchases have had a beneficial influence on the potato situation.

There have also been proposed four marketing agreements for the major potato producing counties in the leading late surplus producing states. These agreements provide for the prohibition of the shipment of cull potatoes in interstate commerce, and if the local area control committee make the necessary recommendations to the secretary, there are provisions that will regulate the shipment of other low grade potatoes, such as U. S. No. 2 or U. S. Commercial in the areas under the agreement.
Very truly yours,
A. E. MERCKER,
In charge, Potato Program Marketing Section.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Sept. 23.—Dinner guests on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Green Lockwood were Mr. and Mrs. Myron DePuy and daughter, Edith, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christiansa of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hobart and Mrs. Hobart's mother, Mrs. Sate Snyder, were entertained to dinner on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Roosa in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. James Young have returned to their home in Tenafly, N. J., after enjoying two weeks' vacation at the home of Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walden.

Mrs. Ethel Palen of Ellenville was a guest on Tuesday of Mrs. Ralph Sahler.

All Sunday School workers who wish to become more efficient in their lofty task of moulding the character of the youth should not miss the opportunity of attending the Roundout Valley Sunday School Training Class which will open on Monday evening, October 4, at the Dutch Reformed Church.

A choice of three courses will be given. Each course will have a competent teacher. For information phone or write the Rev. Harold Hoffman of Stone Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens have returned home after spending a few days with friends on Long Island.

A most interesting meeting of the Grange was held at the Grange hall on Monday evening on the theme, "Our Homes and How Can We Improve Them?"

After singing "Old Folks at Home" there was an interesting discussion on interior decoration and refurnishing walls, doors and side porches, moving pictures on home insulation or how rock wool is made and forced between the walls to protect the house from heat and cold was exceptionally interesting.

Seven of the grade school children attended as guests of the Grange.

The time of the year has arrived when the churches of the various denominations are planning for chicken suppers.

For many a county candidate for town and county offices are expected to attend so a large of a few days between the suppers has been made to give them chance to create appetites for chicken.

The Dutch Reformed Men's Bible Class will serve their annual chicken supper in the basement of the church on October 12 at 5 p. m. The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church will take as their date for their annual chicken supper October 20.

Both churches have become famous for their appetizing menus and generous portions served.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Hoffman and their guests, Mrs. John Dehouse and Miss Janette Van Dyken, motored to Perabush on Wednesday to attend the installation of the Rev. Charles Wagner as pastor of the Perabush Reformed Church.

Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Newhouse and Miss Van Dyken sang a trio at the installation service.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Lockwood entertained a number of friends on Saturday evening to a clam bake in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Granville Lockwood.

Ross K. Osterhout and Green Lockwood. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. Ross K. Osterhout, Lansing Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Green Lockwood and Mr. and Mrs. Granville Lockwood.

Miss Charlotte Becker, who teaches at Yorktown Heights, was a week-end guest at Edgewater Camp.

Thomas Donnelly has sufficiently recovered from his recent automobile accident to resume his duties as R. F. D. carrier on Route 1.

Mrs. Anna Nilsson and sister, Miss Clara Halversen, of Brooklyn, were guests of Mrs. Oswald Jacobsen on Tuesday afternoon.

L. T. Hobart, who is employed in New York city, has been spending a few days at his home in this place.

Hollywood
Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Bing Crosby the big corporation president has a handsome office as you find in Hollywood, but there's one thing missing: a desk for Bing.

The name on the office door isn't Bing's either. It's Everett Crosby, his brother. "Everett Crosby, Ltd.," the letters announce.

Everett is one of Bing's older brothers, and he is the fellow who says "No" when Bing says "How about this one?"

Four years ago Bing was a dance band vocalist trying to get along. He asked Everett to manage him. Everett took on the job on one condition: that Bing should incorporate himself.

And so Bing became president and sole stockholder, Everett became vice president, and their attorney became secretary-treasurer. But now there are four officers. Bing's father, H. L. Crosby, Sr., has a desk now. He's treasurer.

Everett's The "No Man" "All of Bing's money," says Everett, "is paid into the corporation. He gets a salary as president, no matter how much he makes from pictures, radio or records. We gave him a raise shortly after the twins were born, but that's all."

And that is where Everett, as manager, steps in with "No." Whatever it is from Bing's enormous salaries, after his taxes—and plenty—are paid, goes into the corporation treasury. After salaries are paid out, the "corporation" invests the residue in two "safe and sane" commodities—insurance and government bonds.

Bing Doesn't Miss Desk Not long ago the singer bought a 40-acre ranch near San Diego. That is where his summer home will be. He's breeding thoroughbred race horses there now—has about 10 young ones coming along nicely. Del Mar, the Cal. track, which recently had its first season—with a nice profit, too—is Bing's business, not the corporation's. That goes for any race horses he may pick up on his trips to the country's tracks, too. Bing may court the lady luck, but the corporation, which doesn't wear plaid jackets either, sticks to insurance and government bonds.

Stories that Bing is a willing investor in a huge array of projects aren't true. Maybe he'd like to be, but he can't. He hasn't enough money of his own, and Everett is camped over the corporation exchequer.

That's why Bing doesn't even need a desk at his own office. He keeps his feet instead on the golf greens, on the guard rails at the tracks, or pacing up and down the corridors of maternity hospitals. Maybe, after they do the pacing act again soon, Bing will be due for another raise.

Rev. Frederick Baker, will speak on the subject, "Ours." All services standard time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larsen entertained over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Peter Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Olsen and daughter, Beatrice, of New York city.

Stone Ridge, Sept. 23.—The Stone Ridge Library Association is again asking the residents of the Town of Marlborough for their support. The third annual membership is under way and it is hoped everyone in the township will feel a personal responsibility in the maintenance of the library.

There will be a strong membership drive, committees working during the next week and a thorough canvass of the town will be made. If however anyone is overlooked do not feel diffident about communicating with anyone of the following committee: Ross Osterhout, Miss Katherine Hasbrouck, Miss Alberta Davis, Mrs. Harry Snyder, Mrs. H. J. Walden or Mrs. William Hasbrouck.

The library has had a very successful year and the patronage is increasing steadily. Some of the new books recently acquired are: Negley Farson—Way of a Transgressor; Rolihio Hector—King Edward the VIII; Noel Coward—Present Indicative; Norwich Deeping—Blindman's Year; Gladys Carroll—Neighbor to the Sky; P. Oppenheim—Envoy Extraordinary; Dorothy Sawyer—The Sisters; Dorothy Sawyer—Gaudy Night and Busman's Holiday; Millen Brand—Outward Room; Isabel Field—This Life I've Loved; C. C. Furnas—Next Hundred Years; Temple Bailey—I've Been to London.

Mrs. DePuy Hasbrouck, of Kingston, presented the library with a great many of her late husband's books and Luther Garrison also presented a number of books belonging to his sister, who recently died.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, Sept. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Burton Christiansa of Kingston visited her sister, Mrs. Chester Lyons, on Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Kurka of Yonkers visited her mother, Mrs. Reynold Bishop, at the inn this week.

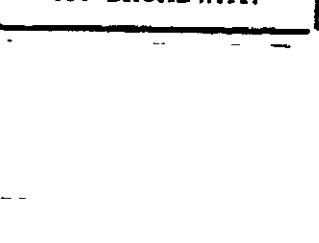

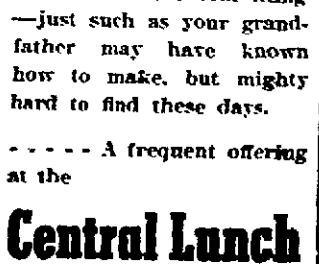

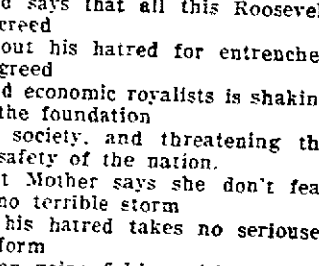

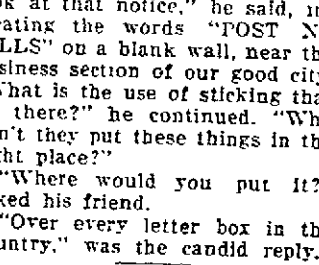

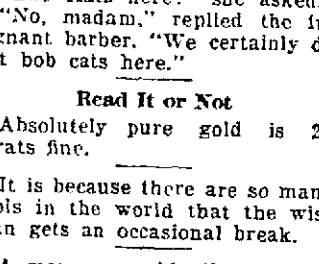

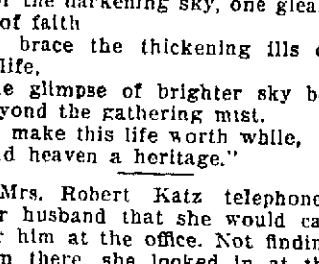

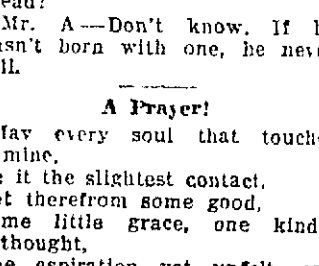

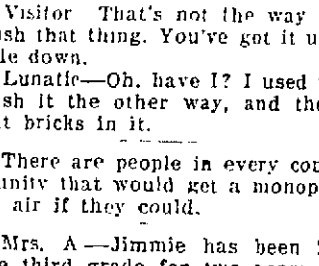

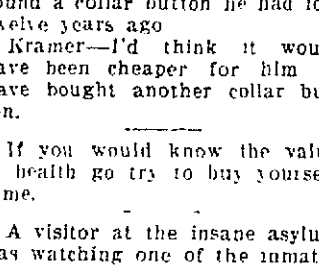

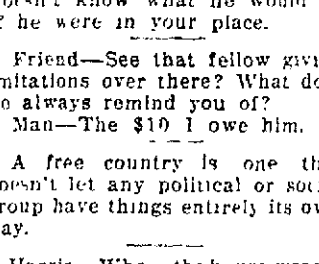

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kinney are home from a visit with friends in Otego, Howe Caverns and Schenectady.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McIntyre of Jefferson and John Miller of Newark, Del., are attending Old School Baptist meeting Sunday.

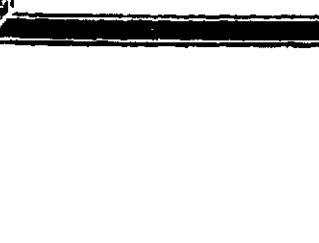

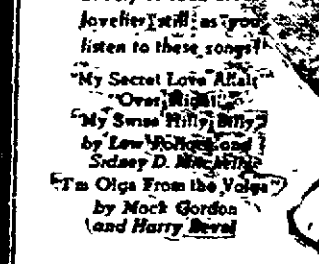

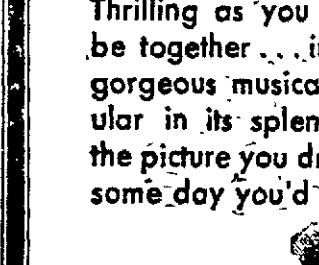

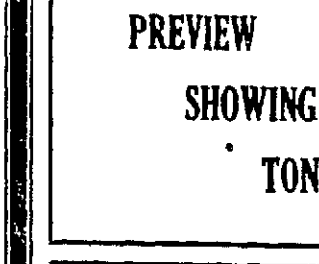

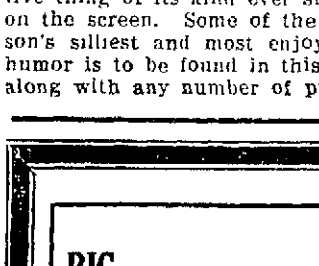

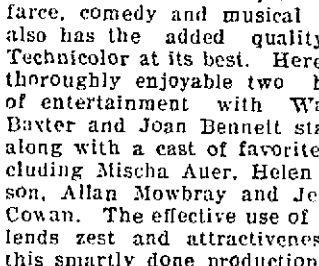

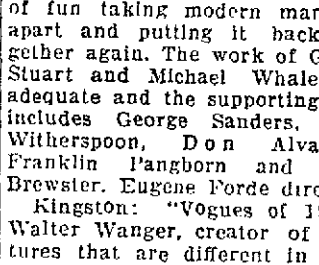

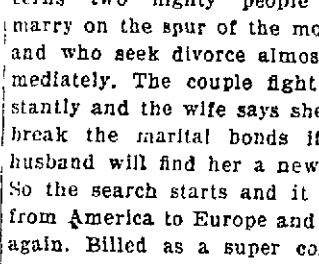

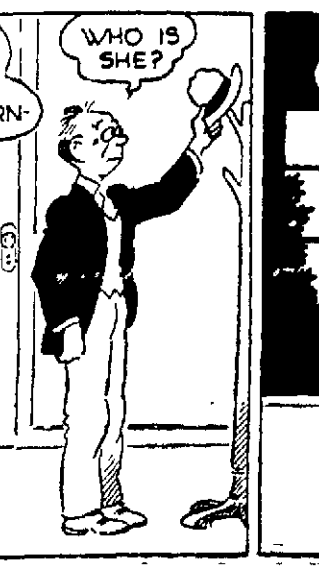

Charles Green purchased a cow and a calf from Baptiste Nadal recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer L. Jones are home from a trip to Upland, Ind., where they returned their son, Stanley, to attend the Taylor University.

Mott Awarded $267.05 Verdict By Mixed Jury

A verdict for plaintiff, Percy M. Mott of Esopus, in the sum of $267.05, was returned Thursday afternoon by the jury which heard the contract action brought by Mr. Mott against Alexander Moldenhauer of Ulster Park. It was the first verdict by a mixed jury including both men and women.

The case was a rather unusual one since it presented women jurors to the citizens of Ulster county for the first time and also was the first case to be tried in the county under the law which permits a four-fifth verdict in a civil case. Summons were made by Joseph Campbell for the plaintiff and Francis T. Murray for the defendant and County Judge Frederick G. Traver made his charge at the morning session after which the jury was taken to dinner and then returned for deliberations.

Out of a mass of conflicting testimony the jury finally rendered its verdict for plaintiff. Mr. Mott contended he had sold a car to defendant and had taken a used car in exchange but that the defendant failed to keep the new car and purchased another. Mr. Mott sought to recover for his commission on the new car, storage and also the amount of a judgment which was obtained against him by Colonial Chevrolet, Inc., of Kingston. The Chevrolet judgment was obtained on the grounds that Mr. Mott had kept the used car of Moldenhauer and sold it after Mr. Moldenhauer had offered it to the Chevrolet firm as part payment on his new car which he bought the day he returned the car which Mott claimed he had sold and delivered to defendant.

Mr. Moldenhauer defended the action on the grounds he never signed an order for the car or that he had taken delivery from Mr. Mott. He testified he had gone for a short demonstration and then declined to sign an order or transfer his license card but told Mr. Mott he would come back later. He did but he left the new car and purchased another in Kingston that same evening. Jurors were excused until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

DOHERTY NAMED LEGION HEAD

U. S. Fleet to Stay In China Waters

that the Chinese defenders had been driven from the north, south and west gates in fierce hand-to-hand fighting.

The Japanese were said to have taken over the three gates, commanding entry to the city at 10 a. m., just 15 minutes after they began pushing in through the first breach in the walls.

(A communique issued by the Japanese army in Tokyo announced that Paotingfu had been captured.)

Other Chinese troops were reported fleeing to the southwest along the railway from Peiping to Hankow.

The Japanese surrounded the walled city during the darkness last night, the army headquarters declared, and at dawn attacked in concert from all sides. They slowly fought their way across the moats and finally occupied a corner of the main wall.

The Japanese were bringing up tanks and heavy artillery to support the infantry attack. The American Presbyterian mission is just outside the north wall where the battle raged.

No word had been received as to whether the American workers had withdrawn before the battle swept all around the city's walls. The American Board Mission establishment south of the city was believed to be outside the battle zone as yet.

The fall of Paotingfu, the capital of Hopei Province, was considered by observers as likely to mean that Chinese resistance in North China was broken and be the probable signal for a Japanese-controlled administration for the whole region.

James G. Connelly Sworn as Attorney

James G. Connelly, son of Al derman and Mrs. James E. Connelly, 65 West O'Reilly street, was one of the 14 candidates for admission to the Bar sworn in by the Appellate Division, Third Department, on the opening of court Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Connelly is a graduate of Fordham College and received his Bachelor of Laws degree from Fordham Law School this past June. At the present time Mr. Connelly is connected with the law office of Walter J. Miller at 260 Fair street.

Virginia Purvis Granted Divorce

Virginia E. Purvis of Kingston has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Robert E. Purvis. Cashin & Ewig appeared for plaintiff and Daniel Hoffman for the defendant. The action was tried before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, who has just granted the interlocutory decree. The Purvis wedding took place at Rhinebeck on February 17, 1937. The acts upon which the decree is granted allegedly took place in town of Ulster on July 18, 1937, with an unknown woman.

By the provisions of the decree the plaintiff may re-marry but the defendant is forbidden to marry except with the express consent of the court.

Filibustering in U. S. Senate

The filibuster appears to have been of United States origin. There was no filibustering in the first days of the republic, but before the Civil war when the growth of the United States added so many senators to the original 26 and agreement became difficult, a filibuster was often used to block legislation. It was particularly effective during the short session of congress when the adjournment date was known. The first filibuster in the senate was in March, 1841, when for 10 days little was discussed except a proposal to oust the senate printers, which was finally carried.

BERLIN MARKS 700 YEARS OF HISTORY

Venerable Capital of Germany Dons Gala Attire.

Washington—Berlin is celebrating this year, 700 years of history. The German capital, a metropolis of more than 4,000,000 people, recently donned holiday attire for a week when a jubilee exposition, a historical pageant, and a series of theatrical performances absorbed the attention of residents and drew thousands of outsiders to the city.

"Berlin grew out of two fishing villages on the banks of the Spree river—Cölln and Berlin," says the National Geographic society.

"Berlin's first mention was in 1244. Although Cölln was then seven years old, and it is really from the founding of Cölln that the modern Berlin is dated, the younger of the two villages, for reasons unknown to historians, gave its name to the city which rose from them.

Assumes Importance.
"The two villages, consolidated in the fourteenth century, gradually grew into towns and in the sixteenth century were favored with the first touch of governmental importance. It was then that the Elector of Brandenburg made the city his official residence. But even this distinction did not boom Berlin; it was not until the close of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870 that it leaped into prominence as one of the world's leading cities.

"At the time of the death of Frederick the Great, census enumerators could count only 150,000 inhabitants. A few decades later there were nearly the 4,000,000 that one finds in the capital today. Berlin grew itself, and while it grew, small towns were rising beyond its city limits. Gradually these were absorbed in Greater Berlin.

Business Spreads Over City.
"Look down upon the German capital from the air today and you will be amazed by the vastness of the city. Its heart is where the Friedrich-Strasse and the Unter den Linden meet at right angles. From the intersection a network of avenues and cross streets leads to the east to the Spree and beyond. To the north and west the network extends to Berlin's principal park, the Tiergarten, which because Berliners enjoy its fresh air, has been called the lungs of the city.

Industry Flourishes.
"Industry and trade flourish in the capital. The business district is a constant scene of animation during the day. But Berlin also is a city of pleasure, for many of those who make it an industrial and commercial titan while the sun is high, spend the remainder of their waking hours in the city's amusement places. There are 118 theaters and many cafes where tired workers seek diversion.

"Berlin differs from many large cities of the world in that its business is not confined to a certain district, leaving other districts commercially lifeless. Spreading in every direction from the central axis of Friedrich-Strasse, Wilhelm-Strasse, and Unter den Linden, are 'quarters' bristling with activity, each with its own peculiar character. Here is a block entirely devoted to the banking business, another block houses the clothing industry, while others are occupied by newspaper offices and exporters.

"In the shadow of skyscrapers are the government offices which constitute the fountainhead of German government. On Wilhelm-Strasse is the palace of the chancellor, the headquarters of the National Socialist party, and other government agencies.

"In recent years the German capital has made many changes. In addition to new imposing buildings, such as the air ministry, a new underground railway system connecting the northern and southern sections of the city is nearly completed."

Move to Amend The Undistributed Profits Tax Law

As a result of the general outcry against the workings of the undistributed profits tax law the Treasury Department, under "pressure" for amendment of the law, is said to be outlining a program for presentation to Congress which will contain provisions giving small business concerns debt payment allowances. It probably will suggest some method to keep corporate capital intact.

Packard Motor officials are looking for a big year in 1938. President Macauley said that the company is spending about $13,000,000 on equipment and in development expenses in preparation for the 1938 model year, which is expected to establish new production records for the company. The new line of cars are completely redesigned. General Motors officials also predict a big year for the industry, despite price rises.

The Chicago area represents a good, but not up to what was expected. It is still ahead of 1936 and a profitable year is predicted. Eastern manufacturers have reduced prices between five and ten per cent on certain types of asphalt building products.

Montgomery Ward yesterday reported profits for six months ended July 31 equal to $1.60 a common share, an increase of 27 per cent over the 1936 period. Sales for the period were up 27.7 per cent. The final quarter dividend will depend upon the market as a continued unfavorable stock market would be unsuited to retaining operations.

Stocks were inclined to steady in early trading yesterday but later sold off and once more showed losses. On the Dow-Jones averages industrials were down 3.47 for the day, to 153.98; rails lost 1.09, to 41.25; utilities declined 0.62, to 23.96. Government bonds were higher. Cotton set new lows for the season. Wheat rallied.

London market closed higher. Amsterdam opened firm but closed easier. London gold price rose as continental hoarding developed.

Engineering construction awards for the week ended September 23 totaled $4,677,000, of which $1,783,000 were private compared with $68,041,000, of which $36,823,000 were private a year ago.

Carloadings for the greater Pittsburgh district for the next three months it is predicted will be up 2.7 per cent, largest for the period since 1929.

Use of the Federal taxing power is being advocated as the most immediate and effective method of forcing "voluntary" simplification of utility holding company systems, as more effective than a speedy application of Section 11 (the so-called "death sentence" of the Holding Co. Act of 1935).

President Clement of Pennsylvania said road's August net totaled $953,000 compared with $2,400,000 year ago. Reading reports August net operating income of $840,305 vs. $1,205,034 in 1936 period. Jersey Central's August gross is estimated at about the same as a year ago.

Earning assets of New York city member banks declined $120,000,000 in week ended September 22; net decline of $118,000,000 in holdings of governments is given as main reason. Brokers' loans were off $44,000,000.

MORE AMATEUR BOXING FOR AMERICAN LEGION

New York, Sept. 24 (AP)—Amateur boxing as a feature of future American Legion conventions struck a popular note with Legion fight fans today.

Certainly the reception given a 14-hour program in Madison Square Garden last night by some 35,000 Legionnaires seemed to warrant future performances, and there was talk of making the amateur event an annual one.

Parting of Ways

Chicago, Sept. 24 (AP)—Irene Castle McLaughlin and Maj. Frederick McLaughlin, whose secret marriage in 1925 created a sensation in Chicago society circles, were at the parting of the ways today. The former dancer of international fame charged "extreme and repeated cruelty" in a suit for divorce filed yesterday against the prominent business man and sportsman. Mrs. McLaughlin asked for the custody of their children, Barbara, 12, and William, eight, and a financial settlement.

New York, Sept. 24 (AP)—Stock prices crumbled in today's market, many leaders falling 1 to 4 points to new lows for the past two years. There were a few off as much as 10.

Large blocks changed hands on the way down and the ticker tape frequently was behind. The pace slowed when a mild rally got underway around noon.

Support buying was scarce, but extreme declines were reduced in many cases near the final hour. Transfers were at the rate of about 2,000,000 shares.

Among the principal share sufferers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel, Republic, Crucible Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Filipino Girl Is Pilot

Honolulu—Charing Abelin, who has qualified as an airplane pilot, is believed not only to be the smallest flier in United States territory but also the only Filipino. She weighs 90 pounds and has to be propped up with pillows to reach the rudder bar.

THUNDER IN THE CITY awakened New York's millions of residents to realization of what inhabitants of Nanking, Shanghai and Madrid must think when a fleet of bombing planes roars overhead. Here are two giant four-motored "Flying Fortresses" high over Manhattan, their unmuffled staccato echoing through the skyscraper canyons. Accompanying the bombers was an air armada of smaller fighting craft.

Deep Sea Diving
While on shore leave in Panama in 1933 two members of the crew of a United States submarine happened to make their boat as it left the base for the diving area. Two hours later, however, they reported aboard for duty, having entered the submarine, by means of the rescue diving bell, while the boat was ninety feet below the surface, on the floor of the ocean, notes a writer in Collier's Weekly.

1937 Legislative Manual Released

Albany, Sept. 24.—The 1937 New York State Legislative Manual, official directory in state government, made its appearance today. This compact little red covered volume now in its 11th year of publication, is compiled annually under the direction of Secretary of State Edward J. Flynn. In its pages may be found the answer to queries relating to the structure of each state department, an outline of duties of newly created commissions or the powers of legislative investigating committees. Members of the Legislature, state departments, and newspapers are receiving the first copies in the distribution which will require at least two months.

This year, tabulation of the vote as canvassed following the 1936 election was of prime importance, and a perusal of this section reveals not only the electoral vote, by states, for president and vice-president, but also the popular vote cast for highest presidential elector; a comparison, by cities, between the popular vote cast for governor by counties, cities and towns; the vote cast for lieutenant-governor, state comptroller, attorney-general associate judge of the Court of Appeals, Supreme Court justices, members of Congress, State Senate and Assembly, as well as the vote relating to the holding of a constitutional convention in 1938.

The departmental section is revised to accord with all changes resulting from legislative action during the last session, all appointments by the governor to boards and commissions, and of particular interest, in an effort to carry last minute information, is the agenda which lists all changes occurring subsequent to the beginning of press-run. Newly created boards and commissions include the Boards of Standards and Appeals, Labor Relations, Mediation, Narcotic Control; Commissions on the Hudson Valley Survey, Cancer Control, Care of Deaf Children, Urban Colored Population, Constitutional Sesqui-centennial; and the unofficial committee of the governor for the preparation of plans for the constitutional convention.

TYPIST HELD IN TELLER'S DEATH

Gertrude O'Keefe (left), 37-year-old Brooklyn typist, faces a charge of slaying George O. Frank (lower right), Wall street bank teller, who had quarreled with her over another woman. Frank was to have married Miss Grace Donahue (upper right), a 21-year-old typist, next month. Frank's body was found a few doors away from Miss O'Keefe's home with a bullet wound in the back of the head.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Sept. 23.—Using the names of most of the more than 30 British colonies cut up into a mass of jumbled letters the members of the Mid-Hudson Philatelic Club had to reconstruct the letters into words. Framed stamps of the colonies hung where they could be used for reference. Mrs. DuBois Grimm composed the largest number of names and received as prize a set of Australian commemorative stamps. The club met Tuesday evening with the president, Miss Margaret Cook, in attendance. Mrs. Eber Smith, Miss Margaretie Smith of Modena, Miss Florence Moirisey of Walden, Troy Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Tilson, Miss Martha Benesh, Mrs. Grimm, Highland. At the meeting on October 5 with Miss Smith the entertainment committee of Troy Cook and O. J. Tilson will be assisted by Miss Moirisey in preparing a program.

NO-SCAR

Since weeds and rats are "public enemies" on New York farms, two exhibits of the New York state college of agriculture at the State Fair in Syracuse, September 15 to 11, aimed to show how to control and combat them. The plant display featured more than 50 different kinds of poisonous plants that grow in the state.

Among the plants which are poisonous to livestock are several kinds of buttercups, the brake fern of upland pastures, three wild cherries, a cockle-bur poisonous to swine, a scouring rush, and many others. The damage caused by rats, their prolific breeding, their menace to health, and the use of poisons and other control measures were called to the attention of visitors in the exhibit on rat control.

An excellent swing may be made for the children from an old automobile tire fastened by a heavy rope to the limb of a tree.

Crowd Expected For Tonight's Fistic Card at Auditorium

One of the largest crowds ever seen at the Municipal Auditorium is expected for tonight's card of Mayor's Industrial Committee fisticuffs, starring Carl Sorenson, intercollegiate champion, and Willie Smith, New York, International champion in the 135-pound class.

Bolstering this pairing, is the five rounders featuring some of the best scrappers ever seen in action around these parts, Joe Triola, Buddy Emerson, Mario Severino, Charley Roberts, Red Van Alstyne, Carmen Nemen, and preliminary boys who are expected to thrill the crowd with their punch.

The Sorenson-Smith duel is a return go, a fight that will keep the spectators on edge all the way for the five rounds these two outstanding lightweights are scheduled to bang away at each other. "I feel great," Sorenson said yesterday. "I think I can out-punch Willie, if I'm not able to knock him out."

Smith, who seldom lets himself get out of fighting trim, said he would be ready to battle at top speed all the way. "I need this win over Sorenson," he told a reporter, "because I hope to do some more scrapping in Kingston this winter."

The international champ, only American boxer to score a knockout over Premier Mussolini's pugilists in the Yankee Stadium last summer, like to box in Kingston.

Little need be mentioned about the Emerson-Triola match, a pairing that should turn into one of the bitterest slugfests ever seen at the Broadway Punch Bowl.

Emerson, holder of two unpopular decisions over the Albany southpaw, is confident he can make it three in a row. Triola hopes to get the duke in his last free lance fight before he starts his studies at Syracuse University, where he will try out for the boxing team.

Charley Roberts, the boy who is to meet Mario Severino, is one of the toughest featherweights in New York, a member of Willie Smith's stable, and a protégé of George Galindo, famous trainer of Golden Gloves champions. Galindo promises that Roberts will give Severino a tougher time than Willie Scheurich, the New Yorker who fought a hard battle with Mario last week.

Carmen Nemen is another Galindo product. This blond brawler from the big city took over Billy Felix several weeks ago in such impressive style that he is favored to end Red Van Alstyne's long streak of wins tonight.

Three three-rounders are on the bill, one featuring Frank Pablic, local 150 pounder, in his first bout. His opponent is Walt La-lac, Schenectady beginner. Tiny Townsend will also appear on tonight's card. Starting time is 9 o'clock.

Leading Golfers Start at Belmont

Belmont, Mass., Sept. 24 (AP)—The nation's top-flight golfers squared off today for a five-day match-play drive to the $3,000 pot of gold at the end of Belmont's open tournament.

In top position as the scramble began with two 18-hole rounds today was Medalist Tony Manero of Salem, Mass., 1936 National Open champion.

Pressing closely were Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., Manero's Ryder Cup teammate, who fumbled an excellent chance to capture the $250 medalist prize, and methodical Al Rosch of Farmingdale, N. Y., red-headed Long Island pro. Nelson and Rosch rolled up scores of 141, one back of Manero.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

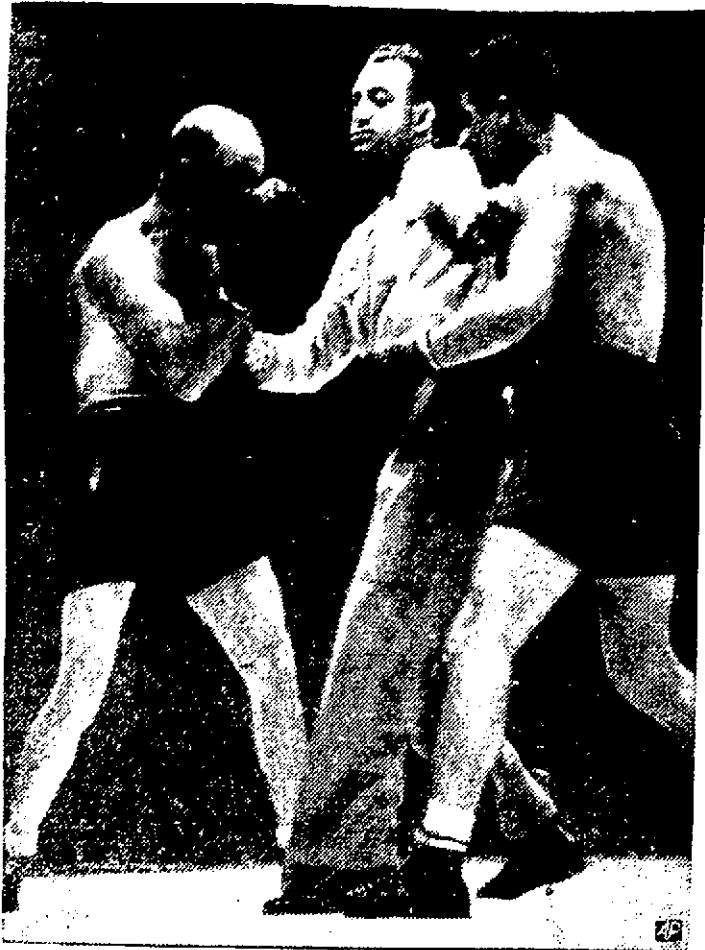

New York—Barney Ross, 143, Chicago, world's welterweight champion, outpointed Cefirino Garcia, 145½, Philippine Islands (15); Fred Apostoli, 159½, San Francisco, stopped Marcel Thil, 159, France, European middleweight champion (10); Lou Ambers, 134½, Herkimer, N. Y., world's lightweight champion, outpointed Pedro Montanez, 135, Puerto Rico (15); Harry Jeffra, 116½, Baltimore, outpointed Sixto Escobar, 117½, Puerto Rico, world's bantamweight champion (15).

Pittsburgh—Al Gainer, 167½, New Haven, Conn., knocked out Johnny Romero, 170½, Chicago (5).

Milwaukee—Tommy Speigal, 134½, Uniontown, Pa., outpointed Varies Milling, 130, Chicago, (10).

APOSTOLI STOPS THIL IN 10TH

Ross-Garcia, Jeffra-Escobar Fight Thrillers

New York, Sept. 24 (AP)—Three championship prizefights in one night, while a laudable enterprise on the part of any promoter, seems at this writing to be at least one championship prizefight too many. Especially if each of them goes the limit of 15 rounds without a knockdown and the feature event curls up and plays dead.

Thirty-two thousand, six hundred patrons sat through last night's pugilistic extravaganza at the Polo Grounds, and when they finally stumbled out of the place some time this morning they were wondering if the new fistic czar, Mike Jacobs, hadn't perhaps been guilty of choking them with cream.

Barney Ross, a welterweight champion with a heart the size of a pumpkin, saved an otherwise uninspiring spectacle with a close and gory victory over Cefirino Garcia, challenger from the Philippines. Harry Jeffra, a clean-cut, smiling lad from Baltimore, whose chief ambition up to recently had been to become a golf professional, added a final fling when it was badly needed by winning the bantamweight championship of the world from sad-faced little Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico, on points.

Lou Not Impressive.

The bout between Lou Ambers, rugged lightweight champion, and Pedro Montanez, a rashly over-exploited young man who owns a bar in Harlem, was the one that curled up. Ambers gave him an awful going-over in close, and it was a dreary thing to watch. Montanez, who had clouted the champion down in a previous over-weight affair, looked muscle-bound and weary at 135 pounds.

Marcel Thil, the bald Frenchman, made a considerable hit in the night's initial turn before he suffered a serious cut on his right eyelid and was declared the loser to Fred Apostoli of San Francisco early in the tenth round. The burly Marvel had a clear lead on points at the time Apostoli stabbed him and the blood began to spurt.

Apostoli, so far as anybody knows for certain, doesn't hold any more championships now than he did before Thil's European middleweight title wasn't at stake. You've got to be a European to win that one. He can, however, claim the world middleweight title if he wants to start an argument.

Jeffra undoubtedly is the happiest of the winners. He beamed like an army searchlight when he had finished trimming Escobar and the announcer had hailed "the new champion." He deserved the verdict for a wide margin, winning something like nine rounds to Escobar's two.

There is a lot of waste motion to the new champ. He dances around much more than seems necessary and swings an awkward-looking right, but it must have felt more awkward than that to Escobar. He has a fine straight left that he kept in Sixto's face until it finally began to hurt the ringsters.

Ross-Garcia Great

Ross and Garcia gave the crowd a grand fight, and it was close right to the finish. The champion, fighting brilliantly in spurts and sufficient nicely, piled up a round to offset the Filipino's determined offensive toward the last. Both were dog-tired and bleeding all over the place at the final bell.

Although the crowd was much smaller than had been anticipated, Promoter Jacobs figured to "make a little." At least, "Uncle Mike" was walking around smiling today.

Annual County Trap Shoot at The Ulster Gun Club on Oct. 10

Eight gunners turned out for the regular weekly skeet shoot at the Ulster County Gun Club range Thursday afternoon. Four hundred targets were thrown during the session and Joe Zeeh with 43x50 and "Pat" Osterhoudt with 42 did the best shooting.

Several 16-year men were present, getting a line on the range in preparation for the gala county trap-shoot to be held Sunday, October 10. This is an annual event and draws teams from practically every gun club in the county. Present indications are that there will be 11 teams entered in this year's shoot.

Two cups are awarded in this 16-year competition. The first is given to the team doing the best scratch shooting and has in every annual county shoot in the past been copied by the representatives of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association. The Few, if any, of the 14,000 tennis enthusiasts who jammed Forest Hills stadium begrudged tiny Senorita Anita Lizana's moment of triumph when she downed the hard-hitting and husky Mlle. Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland to take the American singles championship.

The South American champion performed a feat no other foreign player has accomplished in twenty-two years when she carried off the title in her first bid for it. Miss Molla Bjurstedt, now Mrs. Malory, turned the trick "way back in 1915. It was also the first time in the history of the championship that two foreign entries battled it out for the title in the final round.

For Senorita Lizana the tournament was one uninterrupted march to the title for she did not lose a single set on her way to the crown. This feat was all the more remarkable when one stops to consider that the little lady from South America was playing in her first tournament on American soil.

She won all her preliminary matches with such ease that no one had a real line on her ability. Perhaps that is why the Polish star was installed an overwhelming favorite.

Senorita Lizana lost no time in demonstrating to the huge gathering that she was master of just about every stroke in the game. The drop-shots and top-spin backhands were a match for anyone.

Her backhand eclipsed the famed and dreaded forehand with which Mlle. Jedzejowska had smothered other opposition. In addition she hit with beautiful length from both and her drop-shots scored every time she used them.

In speed, too, she had a great advantage over the Polish girl. She went after everything and rarely did she fail to reach what she went after. There was little question that the best woman player in this tournament won the title.

Without further shilly-shally, this is how the opening program looks from this hopeful, but not confident, corner:

Ohio State-Texas Christian: Yes, Virginia, this is the 24th of September even if this game sounds more like a late November classic. That strange lack of bally-hoo from the Columbus section may be ominous but we'll take the Christians. Sammy Baugh is riding passes now for Washington and, incidentally, plenty of dough, but watch a lad named Dave O'Brien toss 'em around behind the Texans' 210-pound line.

Washington Iowa: The coast conference champions of last year lost the Rose Bowl game, an entire backfield and three linemen but the first-string outfit this year will be tough.

California-St. Mary's: If this isn't California's year St. Mary's should be the first to discover it. The Gaels will average 158 in the line and 135 in the backfield and still will be outwitted, California.

Stanford-Santa Clara: The budding bronchos are hard to ride and Stanford may not be ready for this class of opposition. Stanford should be much stronger than a year ago, however, and this bunch vote rides with the Cardinals.

Cornell Penn State: The material is flowing back to these former football powers. The Nittany Lions have come up with a veteran line and two fine backfields but we'll take Cornell.

U. C. L.-Oregon: U. C. L. A., but the Webbs from the north are coast conference dark horses, if you'll pardon the mixed metaphor.

Temple-Virginia Military: The Flying Squadron from Virginia was grounded by Elton last week and Temple should provide 66-year-old Roy Warner with the 300th victory of his 43-year coaching career.

Illinois-Ohio University: Illinois' old master, Bob Zuppke, will try to show his one-time pupil, Don Peden, a thing or two. The Illini, but it probably will be close.

Pittsburgh-Ohio Wesleyan: This Pitt array may be better than last year's, which spells bad news for the Methodists.

Vanderbilt-Kentucky: This one may be close, for Kentucky comes up with a veteran team sparked by Bob Davis and Elmore Simpson. The impression prevails, however, that Vanderbilt will be a stout Southeastern Conference contender. Ray Morrison plans to start passing the ball around and has the Texans to do it. Vanderbilt.

Duke-Virginia Tech: The Dukes

seem to have too much manpower for Tech.

North Carolina-South Carolina: North Carolina gets the call.

Minnesota-North Dakota State: The Gophers get touchdown practice.

Indiana-Centre: Not much to choose but we'll take Indiana.

Tulane-Clemson: Tulane but not by much.

Tennessee-Wake Forest: No predictable trouble here for Bob Neyland's powerful Tennessee Volunteers.

Holy Cross-St. Anselm: The Saints held Holy Cross to a scoreless draw last year. They may pay for that tomorrow. Holy Cross.

Workout for Navy

Navy-William & Mary: Doesn't look like more than a workout for the Tars.

Purdue-Butler: Butler was one of the few undefeated teams of '36 but played no Purdues.

Wisconsin-South Dakota State: The most improved team in the Big Ten to start off on the right foot.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Duquesne picked over Wayneburg; Auburn over Birmingham-Southern; Georgia Tech over Presbyterian; Dartmouth over Bates; Manhattan over St. Bonaventure; Penn. Military; West Virginia over West Virginia Wesleyan, though not by much; and Alabama over Howard.

Light Workout For Colgate 11

Hamilton, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Coach Andy Kerr wound up preparations today for the opening game with St. Lawrence here tomorrow with a light workout to put the finishing touches on his Colgate team.

Eddie Lalor, out for a day with a cold, was back in uniform, but is not expected to play long before being replaced at fullback by Eddie Van Orden or Eddie Wilson.

Pete Richko and Don Wemple, veteran ends, caught a few passes in a brief drill and showed to good advantage in snatching long gains with regularity. Johnny Long and Wallie Davids did most of the toasting.

Kerr had Jack Prendergast at the debated right guard post and long at halfback. Captain Red Chesbro, recovered from a brief illness, appeared to be back in form.

SOLEM STRESSES BLOCKING, TACKLING

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Coach Ossie Solem put his Syracuse University gridders through another session today stressing clean, hard tackling and blocking.

Asserting that work in these departments in recent scrimmages has not been too finished, Solem put the varsity through a scrimmage against the frosh.

St. Louis—George Koverly, 220, Hollywood, threw Jim Wright, 225, Texas, 25-14.

Giants by Cubs, Come East with A 3½-Game Lead

(By The Associated Press)

New York's diamond Embroidery Society got down today to the serious business of winding up its second straight pennant stitching monopoly.

The Yankees, who use bats for needles and homers for thimbles, had the American League flag all sewed up. The Giants, somewhat slower on the fancy work, but apparently heading for the same result, were rapidly completing their hemstitching on the National League flag.

And the Embroidery Society's very good friends, the Bronx Baseball Cheering and Chowder Club, was all set to whoop it up in another exclusive civil war of the diamond for little Old New York, come World Series time, October 6.

The Giants were 3½ games ahead as a result of their wild and woolly win over the Cubs yesterday, and were riding along back to the comparative quiet of the East. With the Atlantic seaboard's usual soft touches—the Dodgers and Phillies—ahead, Bill Terry's Terriers shouldn't have much trouble keeping some kind of an edge down to the tape, although four-game series with the Boston Bees and their pitching stingers may do a lot of damage.

A Close Shave

The Giants' victory by an 8 to 7 margin yesterday in the rubber match of the crucial three-game set with the Cubs produced the dampest battle of the lot. Despite a 17-hit New York attack, Terry had to trot out all four of his starting pitchers before the Chicago clouters surrendered. Finally, long, lean and lanky Cliff Melton, the southpaw rookie who applied a six-bit coat of whitewash in Wednesday's game, was called on to save the day. And he did—by retiring the final two Cub batters in the ninth, with one run in, the tying and winning runs on base. Although he lasted less than two innings, Carl Hubbell was given official credit for the victory, his 21st of the year.

The Yankee, meantime, although taking a 5-5 beating themselves at the hands of the St. Louis Browns, had the pleasure of watching an old ex-Yankee, Ben Chapman, clinch the American League pennant for them. Chapman, who loses no love for the Yanks, hit a homer with two on in the ninth inning, which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 decision over the Detroit Tigers, and eliminated the second-place Detroiters from the pennant chase. The Tigers are now 12 games behind and have only ten to play.

The win boosted the Red Sox back into fourth place in the American League. The Cleveland Indians, finding Washington's rookies too much for them, were beaten, 3-2 and sank to fifth.

Jim Turner hurled No. 19 as the Bees nosed out the Pirates, 2-1. Don Padgett hit a homer and two triples and led the Cardinals to a 6-4 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Dopey Camilli's homer with the bases loaded gave the Phillies a 9-5 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds, who used 22 players for a new National League record.

Johnny Whitehead won his own game for the White Sox by driving in the only run for a 1-0 edge over the Athletics.

Mrs. Browning Is Spaniel Patron

Due to a ruling of the American Kennel Club, it has been found necessary to change the name of the Albany Spaniel Club to the Albany Field Trial Club. This change is necessary, however, will not affect the sixth annual spaniel trials which the group will conduct on October 9 and 10 at the Galleghy Farm at Pears Bush.

The club has just announced its list of patrons for the current season, and included in this roster of outstanding fanciers are Mrs. Robert F. Browning, West Hurley, and Mrs. George A. Carruthers, and Mrs. A. R. Moffit, Poughkeepsie.

These patrons assist the members of the club in securing and training puppies for field trial work, and have been responsible for much of the success that the club has enjoyed since its founding in 1930 by Ralph C. Craig, noted breeder and handler of champion bench and field trial cocker spaniels.

The club has been fortunate this year in securing the services of two outstanding spaniel fanciers who will act as judges for the trials. Herman E. Mellenthin, of Poughkeepsie, is probably the outstanding breeder of bench and field cocker spaniels in this country. Edward Dana Knight, of Charleston, W. Va., was largely instrumental in establishing the standards for judging springer spaniels.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.)

Ben Chapman, Red Sox—His ninth-inning homer with two on base beat the Tigers, 4-3.

Don Padgett and Mike Ryba, Cardinals—Padgett hit homer, two triples, driving in three runs, as Ryba pitched four-hit shut-out in 4-2-3 inning relief trick to beat Dodgers, 8-4.

Johnny Whitehead, White Sox—Blanked Athletics, 1-0, with seven hits and drove in only run himself.

Dolph Camilli, Phillies—Hit homer with bases loaded in 4-4 win over Reds.

Joe Kraskauskas, Senators—Stopped Indians, 3-2, with nine hits.

Caseys to Play Softball Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, September 26, Kingston Council No. 275 Knights of Columbus softball team will travel to Newburgh to meet the team representing Newburgh Council K. of C. The game will be played at Newburgh Recreation Field before a large gathering of Knights. The local team will rely on Ray Avery and Jim Kennedy for its battery. Newburgh will be represented by Walsh and Shannon. The team will leave the K. of C. home at 12:15 sharp. All members of the team are asked to be present at that time.

Cornell Ready For Tomorrow

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Coach Carl Snavely pronounced his big Red Cornell football team today "as ready as it can be this stage" as he awaited the season's opener against Penn State here tomorrow.

Redeemer Church Improvements Are Made; Celebration

The extensive improvement program which the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer has undertaken is nearing completion. For the last three months the church has been closed. Meanwhile it has been undergoing a process of redecoration and re-lighting and repairs have been made to the organ. This program which will cost about $10,000, has been a project of the 40th anniversary of the founding of the congregation.

According to Pastor Gansle, special services will be held beginning with Sunday, October 3, and closing Sunday, October 10. The rededication service will open the celebration at 10:45 o'clock in the morning of Sunday, October 3. The speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Samuel G. Trexler, D. D., former president of the New York Synod. In the evening of October 3, at 7:45 o'clock, the service will be given over to the dedication of the new memorial lights and to a choir and organ recital. At the organ console Prof. Richens will play four numbers: "Grand March in E Flat" by Smart; "In a Monastery Garden" by Ketelby; "Villanelle" by Ireland; "Scherzo" by Meale. The choir under the direction of Mr. Stue will sing the cantata: "Daughter of Jairus" by Stainer. On Tuesday evening, October 5, the Lutheran Churches and other Protestant Churches of Kingston and vicinity will join in celebration in what will be designated as Church and Community Night. Two 15 minute addresses will be delivered; one by the Rev. Arthur Carroll, president of the Kingston Ministers' Association, and pastor of St. James Methodist Church, and the other by the Rev. Frederick Baum, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church of Poughkeepsie.

Wednesday evening, October 6, will be featured by a banquet for the members of the congregation and their families. A splendid program of entertainment has been prepared. The speaker will be the Rev. Harold Miller, pastor of the Church of the Incarnation, Brooklyn.

The final service of the series will be the charter member service of Sunday, October 10, at 10:45 o'clock. At that time those who were responsible for organizing the congregation 40 years ago will be recognized. In addition, honorable mention will be made of those who were members of the first confirmation class. Of the charter members 57 still remain in the active work of the parish; of the first confirmation class 16 are still on the parish rolls.

A program booklet descriptive of these services is being printed and will be issued to all members of the congregation.

Payrolls Were Higher

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Despite seasonal reductions, retail employment and payrolls were higher during July than the same month a year ago, the State Labor Department revealed today. Employment increased 2.4 per cent, and payrolls 3.4 per cent, during the month, the department said. Wholesale employment was also up, the report added.

Mrs. H. Lee Breithaupt entertained dinner guests on Tuesday evening. Troopers J. Metzger and J. Mahoney of the B. C. I. were in town last week. Miss E. Brennan of Kingston is spending a few days in town. Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Schumacher of New York, were week-end callers in town. Mrs. Frank Tyler was a Kingston caller on Friday. J., and Miss Anne Muller of New York, spent Wednesday with their sister, Mrs. Ray Donovan. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krom and C. Donovan are spending a week visiting relatives in Oneonta. Jerome Newman attended the American Legion Convention held in New York last week. William McGrath left Tuesday for Wake University, Wake Forest, N. C., where he plans to study this year.

30,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN RETURN TO BUFFALO DESKS

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Buffalo's 30,000 school children went back to school this week after two weeks' extra vacation because of a flare of infantile paralysis cases—but they still don't get to swim. Superintendent of Schools Robert T. Bapst announced yesterday the indoor swimming pools of the seven city high schools and a number of the elementary schools would remain closed, at least until October 1. About 30 cases of the disease were reported in the city during the last month of summer. We'd rather listen to the story of a public hanging than hear the details of an unsuccessful speculation in real estate.

"We have been in the building business for twenty-five years. Realizing that to sell a house, the heating plant must meet the demands of the public, we chose the G-E Oil Furnace. We have built 16 houses around the $15,000 mark. All have G-E Oil Furnaces. We found it helped to sell those houses before they were completed."

Ivar Liljedahl, Hartford, Conn.

N.Y.U. Offers Two Courses Here for Higher Degrees

Efforts toward making Kingston a university center, where higher educational facilities will be available for those who wish to continue their supervised studies, moved forward today another step with the announcement that New York University will present two university courses in this city for which credit will be allowed toward master's and doctor's degrees.

The courses offered, it was announced, are designed to give school teachers credit toward advanced degrees, but will be broad enough to interest many outside the teaching profession. Those interested in the plan foresee the possibility that at a date not far in the future the number of courses offered will be greatly increased and will cover a wide variety of subjects in every branch of the educational spectrum.

Newburgh already has made great headway along these lines and the success there have been an added incentive toward an increased program for Kingston.

Kingston this year will have these two courses: Philosophy of Education, 60 hours; 4 points. First and second terms. Dr. Hall-Quest, Tuesday, 7:30-9:15, beginning September 21.

The first term treats of the leading current philosophies of education: Pragmatism, experimentalism, realism, naturalism, and idealism, and the influence of these philosophies on education, and the aims and values of education. The second term is devoted to Dewey, democracy, and education, evolutionary ideas, industrial reorganization, education as growth, and educational reconstruction.

The Study-centered school, 60 hours; 4 points. First and second terms. Dr. Hall-Quest, Tuesday, 4:15-6:00, beginning September 21.

A detailed analysis will be made of plans for teaching pupils to study in the various subjects. The techniques of book study, problem solving, project work, note-taking, outlining, reports, reference reading, etc., will be considered. Special attention will be given to ways and means of organizing the school as a center in which most or all of the pupil's studying may be concentrated. The pro's and con's of home study will be reviewed and various types of home study evolved. Lists of study habits and study skills pertaining to each school subject or unit will be made. The course will be of use to both elementary and high school teachers and to administrators. The material may be applied by each member of the class in his present position, in either an individual or a group project.

These courses will be accepted for credit toward the degrees of the School of Education of New York University within the limits of the degree requirements. Each student is cautioned to ascertain well in advance of registration whether or not the course will be accepted for credit in his curriculum. A student matriculated in the School of Education may obtain this information from his curriculum director. A student who is planning to matriculate should apply to the secretary, admissions committee, Room 33, Press Building.

Course Requirements.

Of the 125 points of credit required for the baccalaureate degree in the School of Education, 32 points must be earned in residence in a period of five successive years. The courses offered through the Division of General Education do not carry residence credit. The final 32 points for the degree must be taken either in residence (i. e., on the campus during the first or second terms of the regular year, during the intersession, or during the summer session) or in the Division of General Education. All course requirements must be completed in a period of 10 years from date of matriculation in the School of Education.

Six full courses in graduate work in education or directly related thereto are required for the masters degree. Three full courses numbered 200 or above; and three full courses numbered 300 or above. At least four of the six courses required must be taken under the auspices of New York University. Three of those courses including at least one on the 200 level must be taken in residence. Division of General Education courses do not carry residence credit. In addition there is a thesis requirement, or in lieu thereof, one full course on the 100 level which may be taken in the School of Education or in the Division of General Education.

The minimum residence requirement for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy is five courses and for the degree of Doctor of Education seven courses. A total of nine full courses beyond the baccalaureate degree must be completed in residence by the candidate who earns both the Master's and Doctor's degrees at New York University. Any courses required for the degrees of Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Education beyond the minimum residence requirement may be taken in the Division of General Education.

The courses will meet for 15 sessions of two hours each per term, and an additional session for a final examination. For further information, you are invited to communicate with the Division of General Education, New York University, 20 Washington Square North, New York, N. Y. Telephone SPring 7-2000.

BEARSVILLE.

Bearsville, Sept. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Foster Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reynolds, Kenneth and Arnold Reynolds attended the annual reunion of the Myers family on Sunday. Thirty-four were present at the reunion which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edgar in New Hamburg.

Miss Louise Bowman and niece, Miss Adele Beatty of New York City will return home on Saturday after spending the week at their cottage in this place.

Howard C. Peck had six hemlock trees set out around his home on Wednesday by Mr. Holland, of West Hurley.

Peter Kleitgaard son of Mr. and Mrs. Kaj Kleitgaard, has returned to the Salebury School for his third year.

Mrs. Varian, who has been Friday for East St. Louis, Ill., spending some time with her daughter, Miss Dorothy Varian at Parks Air College, has returned to New York for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Shultz entertained at their log cabin one evening this week in honor of Oliver and Donald Shultz, who will leave for college soon. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Reynolds spent Monday in Kingston.

Kolts-Smith Wedding Sunday

The marriage of Miss Wilma Kolts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Smith of Leonia, N. J., and Raymond E. Kolts, of Poughkeepsie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Kolts of Hasbrouck avenue, this city will take place Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Kingston. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Mr. Bates, pastor of the Lutheran church in Leonia, N. J.

Miss Gertrude Kolts, sister of the groom, will be the maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Alma Smith of Kingston and Miss Helen Rothenberg of Leonia, N. J. Miss Joan Romulus will be flower girl.

Robert Smith, brother of the bride-elect, will act as best man. The wedding will be a reception for 150 guests will be held at the Clinton Ford Pavilion. After a motor trip to the south, Mr. Kolts and his bride will reside in Poughkeepsie where he is employed as a pharmacist.

Highland Wedding In October

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin E. Osterhout of "The Cedars", Highland, have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Florence Osterhout, to La Verne Franklin Davis, which will take place at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, October 10, in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Highland.

The Rev. Samuel A. MacCormac, pastor, will officiate. Directly after the ceremony a reception for the immediate family and relatives will be held at the home of the parents of the bride-elect.

Miss Osterhout was graduated from the Highland High School and the Poughkeepsie Training School for Dental Nurses. She is a teacher in the Methodist Sunday School, active in the Epworth League and assistant organist of the church.

Mr. Davis attended the Highland high school and is employed at Claverack, where the couple will make their home.

Russell-Trowbridge

A very pretty wedding took place in the Ashland Church last Sunday afternoon when Clara Agnes Trowbridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Trowbridge, of Franklin and Garvin Lewis, Russell, of Woodstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Russell were united in marriage by the groom's brother, the Rev. James H. Russell, pastor of the church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ostrander, of Woodstock, brother-in-law and sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception for 32 guests was held in the parsonage. After a trip to Lake George and other points of interest, the young couple will reside in Woodstock.

62nd Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben H. Decker of "Glenview", Wilcox avenue, Highland, celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary Wednesday at their home with visits from many friends, and cards of remembrance from their relatives and friends. Mr. Decker is in his 89th year and Mrs. Decker is a few years younger. Both are in good health. Mr. Decker was formerly a captain of river steamer, and both have been active in fraternal and church affairs in the village of Highland.

Chicken

Five-pound chicken 1 bay leaves
4 celery leaves 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 onion slices 1 cup water

Wash and clean fowl. Cut into serving pieces. Add to the rest of the ingredients. Cover and let simmer for about three and one-half hours or until the chicken is very tender when tested with a fork. Remove chicken. Pour stock into a large kettle and remove the fat.

Gravy

1/2 cup chicken 1 cup milk
1/2 cup flour 1 teaspoon salt
2 cups chicken 1/2 teaspoon paprika

Mix fat and flour. Add rest of the ingredients and allow to cook for two minutes.

Dumplings

3 tablespoons 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup flour 1/2 teaspoon granulated sugar
2 cups flour 1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup baking powder 1/2 cup milk

Add milk. Mix lightly. Drop soft dough from a spoon onto the gravy mixture. Cover tightly, and let cook slowly for 20 minutes. Pour into a large serving dish.

Chicken gravy burns easily unless it is carefully watched during the cooking.

1/2 cup diced celery 1/2 cup diced paprika
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles 1/2 cup salad dressing

Mix and chill the ingredients and serve in a bowl lined with crisp lettuce.

Britain's Public House

Signs Have Real Meaning

Much of Britain's history, and more of its manners and feelings can be gleaned from various public house signs, seen in villages and towns, notes a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

Many of these were selected out of compliment to the reigning king, or lord of the manor. "The Blue Boar" was the badge of Richard III; "The Bull's Head" of Henry VIII; and "The White Hart" of Richard II.

The "Fox and Hounds" and "Hare and Hounds" were named in compliment to a sporting squire, and "The Green Man" probably originated when the squire's gamekeeper married, and was promoted to the village public.

It is thought that the "Saracen's Head" was thus named by a Crusader after his return from the Holy wars. The "Chequers" is said to refer to the Stuart kings, whose shield was "chequy."

"The Spread Eagle," being the arms of Germany, indicated in past days that German wines were sold in that inn, and the "Castle," being the arms of Spain, signified that Spanish wines were sold.

Most inn names have real meanings, some easy to discover, as "The Horse and Groom," some more difficult, like "The Goat and Compasses," which is a corruption of "God encompasses us," originally so named in the Puritan days.

Canada's foreign trade during the first half of this year was higher than for any corresponding period since 1930.

WIN TEEN-AGE-POPULARITY BY KNOWING ETIQUETTE

"What shall I say?" ponders Jane, who wants to be a bit with boys as she is with girls.

"What shall I say?" puzzles Dick, who wants the girls to like him as much as boys do.

To Jane and Dick we say that making dates and going places are simple as A B C if you know your etiquette.

How shall Jane ask Dick to a dance? If she is delicate in her invitation, "Not and Ted are coming here Friday for cards and we'd love to have you, too," she wins an enthusiastic yes from Dick. If she says, "Feel like some fun Friday?"—she may get "Er—I'll be busy." For Dick's allowance may be too low to risk a spending date.

When Dick telephones Jane, he can make a good impression by saying, "May I speak to Miss Jane Brown?" He seems a not-so-simple date if he says, "Hi, who's this?" If Jane isn't home, he would leave his name. No crude "Never mind."

Maybe you have other problems. You wonder if you should help a man remove his topcoat when he calls. No, you just tell him where to put it.

Or you wonder how to introduce him to your family. Present him to your mother. "Mother, this is Jack." But present the young man to him. "Jack, this is Mildred."

Table manners are important, too. If you'd be a popular dinner-date, be invited to the nicest places, don't cuddle your plate with one arm as you eat—or till a dish—or chew open-mouthed.

Make your manners smooth, poised, delightful with the help of our 40-page booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR THE TEENS. See how much more fun you'll have—at dances, at theatres, restaurants, dates, parties.

Legion Auxiliary's Splendid Record

At the close of the National Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary in New York city this week, New York state can take credit for more than a little of the worthwhile work accomplished by the women of the auxiliary among the boys who were not able to parade up Fifth avenue.

The National Rehabilitation program totals an expenditure of $121,717.33 among some 12,903 hospitalized veterans, 174 of them women, in the state of New York. The auxiliary has been responsible for providing 346 children with health camp care this summer. This was made possible through the generosity of contributions from units all over the state.

In the department of New York, the sum of $84,563.97 was expended during the last year in the interest of child welfare; 18,673 veterans children, representing 5,515 families, and 2,631 non-veterans children representing 848 families, were reported cared for. Many units did not report the number of families assisted by them, therefore it is not possible to give an exact number of children and families receiving aid.

The activities of this child welfare program are many and varied, including the securing of Mother's Aid Allowances and Soldiers' Relief for a number of families; promoting and equipping recreational centers; all types of medical treatment, surgical appliances; orthopedic shoes and braces have been supplied and one unit reports that an operation for club-foot has been successful, the foot having been molded so that it is now normal.

This operation was performed gratis and valued at $156. In addition to supplying food and clothing where needed, dental care was provided also and general health conditions attended to, the effect of which will be felt far into the future.

The auxiliary's national membership now numbers 26,460; Ulster county, 302; Kingston unit, 127.

The Kingston Unit held a regular meeting in the Memorial Building on O'Reilly street, Friday, September 17, and conducted a memorial service, using white and colored flowers, also appropriated music for the five members who died during the year.

A unanimous ballot was cast for the candidates for office during the coming year, the new president, Mrs. Christopher P. Roche to conduct the first meeting on the third Thursday in October. The vice-presidents are Miss Margaret McManus and Mrs. Bernice Jansen; secretary, Mrs. Harry D'Algie; treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Messinger.

Installation ceremonies will be held in the Memorial Building Monday evening, October 5.

County Committee women elected were as follows: Mrs. Alfred P. Messinger, Mrs. Raymond H. Woodard, Mrs. Harry D'Algie, Mrs. Harry Whitney and Mrs. Christopher Roche.

Mrs. William McNamee gave an inspiring report on the activities of the Junior Auxiliary, showing their growing interest in the work. A joint trip is planned for the Sons of the Legion and the Junior Auxiliary to the football game at West Point on October 31.

Mrs. Jane McManus, Welfare Chairman, reported donations of clothing equivalent to $220, and an actual expenditure of $119.62 during the year for food, clothing and other necessities.

Miss Margaret McManus rehabilitation chairman, reported $324.33 spent during the year. Other chairmen of the many activities gave their annual reports.

Good Cheer Committee sent flowers to Mrs. Harriet Glendenning and Mrs. Katherine Voligt.

Following the meeting, motion pictures were shown and later, dancing enjoyed by the members of the auxiliary and the post.

There are three types of mahogany—West Indian, tropical American and African. The first is ordinarily considered the best.

Ski Trails Formed Fall Opening Basis of Talk at Albany Thursday

Among the local advocates of winter sports who attended the meeting Thursday with State Commissioner of Conservation Luther Osborne at Albany when ski trail improvement was under discussion, were Lloyd Kinsley and Carroll Simpson of Phoenicia.

A two-and-a-half hour public hearing was held on the department's proposed ski program which calls for the construction of 150 miles of new ski trails in the State Preserve. At the conclusion of the hearing Commissioner Osborne reserved decision in the matter.

The proposed development calls for the development of seven new trails in the Catskills, two near North Creek and two on Mt. McIntyre. All of the proposed trails are of the cross country type.

Out of 17 letters from ski clubs but one opposed the construction program, and that was an opposition to trails at Mt. Marcy and Mt. McIntyre on the grounds that they were not accessible and would deface the wilderness district which is a haven for hikers.

There was no opposition or criticism of the trails in the Catskills or at North Creek in the Adirondacks.

Several skiers criticized the state's present system of construction as dangerous and recommended the trails be made wider. Eight foot trails were condemned and it was suggested that trails be 25 feet in width to insure safety.

has gone in record for years as stating that the small practical light that could be used for street lighting was 100 candle power. Kingston was the only community along the Hudson River using 60 candle power lights. These changes made a marked improvement throughout the city and increased the candle power by 40,290.

In 1935 the second step of the plan was put into service by changing more than 200 lights in the residential area to 250 candle power or larger, in accordance with the plan of other cities.

This was the first planned change made in street lighting in the residential areas of Kingston in over 30 years, a very much needed improvement and one which has contributed greatly to the safety of our citizens. This increased the total candle power by an additional 40,300.

This year, with the support of members of the various business men's associations, this administration proceeded with the work of replacing the existing overhead lights in the uptown area with a new ornamental underground system. This involved replacing 42,100 candle power lights and 2,600 candle power lights and 4,600 candle power lights.

Taking advantage of the provisions of the contract, the Board of Public Works was able to modernize the lighting system uptown and increase the candle power by 36,050, while having to expend only a small amount for purchasing and installing the 55 ornamental standards.

The board recently mapped a definite plan for the best additional lighting to use in the interest of the taxpayers and citizens, and already changes are being made which will bring the total candle power used in lighting our streets to well over the half million mark.

During the past month we have increased the candle power on Broadway by 62,800 or 15 per cent, and in October we will have installed and placed in service in the downtown business area 43 new ornamental lights, with an increase in candle power of 19,000, so that the downtown business section will be on a street lighting par with uptown. As I said a minute ago, the candle power on Broadway has already been increased, and next year we will install ornamental standards, which will eliminate the existing poles and overhead wires. When the Broadway project is completed we will have a modern and adequately lighted thoroughfare from one end of the city to the other, which is bound to make a favorable impression upon visitors and to which we, as citizens, may point with pride.

When I assumed the office of mayor the total candle power of Kingston's street lighting system was 418,260 candle power. In 1935 it was increased 40,290 candle power. And in 1936 it was further increased by 40,300 candle power. This year the underground system increased it 36,050 candle power. Add to this the 62,800 candle power increase recently made on Broadway and the 19,000 increase downtown in October, and we have a total increase in street lighting during my administration of 198,440 candle power of 47 per cent, making a total of 616,700 candle power used in lighting our streets as of October, 1937. This 47 per cent increase in street lighting was obtained at only an additional cost of $2,637. Therefore, the taxpayers and citizens are receiving 47 per cent more street lighting for only 5 per cent more cost. However, this modern street lighting system, with its increase in candle power of 47 per cent, is an investment which can not be measured in dollars and cents. Scientific studies show that 60 per cent of the accidents occur after dark, when there is only 25 per cent of the traffic, and that adequate street illumination will decrease accidents as much as 50 per cent. These facts seem borne out in Kingston, for so far this year there has not been a fatal accident involving pedestrians, whereas in 1936 two pedestrians were killed during early evening hours. Add to this the convenience of being able to see conditions underfoot and the protection afforded by adequate lighting from the acts of criminal characters.

I say to you here tonight that we owe a sincere vote of thanks to all who have labored for the success of this program since its inception in 1930, and I extend my warmest congratulations and thanks to the chairman and members of the arrangements committee, and to the merchants whose cooperation made this program possible tonight. I know they have all worked most diligently to insure the success of this great fall opening.

I hope that when the ornamental lights are ready to be dedicated downtown, the merchants in that area will follow the example of the uptown business men and present a program that will attract our local citizens and neighbors throughout the county. I know that downtown will find up to ready to join in making the celebration the success we see here tonight. Then, when the Broadway lighting is finished I hope all three associations will stage a gala celebration and sales event throughout the entire city. On such occasions as these we prove to our own people as well as purchasers from other communities, that Kingston has unexcelled advantages as a modern merchandising center.

Street lighting is one of the necessities to good merchandising methods. Look at these finely lighted streets in this area. Notice how wide the streets look with all the old wooden poles and the overhead wires hanging. Imagine how beautiful Broadway and the downtown area will look when the present unsightly poles and the mess of existing overhead wires are gone. It will be another important step taken in the plan to make Kingston a more beautiful and more prosperous and safer place in which to live and raise our children.

In conclusion, may I express my appreciation for the opportunity of participating in this celebration, and may I urge upon the members of the various business groups the necessity for cooperation in developing programs that will create enthusiasm for and appreciation of the shopping facilities right here in the county seat.

Now, on behalf of our business men and residents, I take great pleasure as the Mayor of the City of Kingston in dedicating to the future convenience and safety of our citizens and visitors, this modern, ornamental street lighting system.

Turns On the Lights.

When Mayor Heiselman had concluded his address he threw a switch and the new lights were turned on, store windows in the business district were unveiled and the displays of fall merchandise and unique effects in window dressing prepared by the various merchants were thrown open to public view.

Drum Corps Big Feature.

Meanwhile the American Legion Drum Corps, in full paraphernalia, which had halted its parade until the conclusion of the mayor's address, came marching up Wall street, parading and playing through the business section as far as Crown street, and then returning for a second tour of the route.

With standard bearers and color guards in advance, the Corps had on a line and as always made a striking appearance. All along the line they were received with the merited applause which invariably greets their appearance, not only on the streets of Kingston but elsewhere.

Doodledorfers Were There. Another feature of the evening's program that added to its success was the appearance shortly before nine o'clock of the famous Doodledorfers of the American Legion Post. The Doodledorfers marched and played through the business district during the evening and whenever they halted were soon surrounded by a large crowd which was pleased with their music and amused at their antics.

Winners Announced. It was about 10 o'clock when the judges completed their survey of the numerous competing window displays and Ben Fein, committee chairman, announced the winners from the bandstand. Before making the announcement Mr. Fein took occasion to thank all who had helped to make the occasion such a success and bring out "one of the largest crowds Kingston had ever had." He particularly thanked the city departments for their cooperation and especially the members of the police department for the efficient manner in which they had handled the entire affair and controlled the numerous traffic problems involved.

The decisions of the judges—Kenneth Gray, display advertising manager of the Wallace Co., Poughkeepsie, William Hoff of Luckey Platt & Co., Poughkeepsie, and Dudley Diggs, of the Illuminating engineering laboratory of the General Electric Co., Poughkeepsie.

House of Flowers, First. First prize, a gold cup, went to the Kingston House of Flowers, Fair street. Mrs. James Devine, manager of the flower shop, was not present to receive the cup, and it was left for President Mollott to make the presentation to her later.

Second prize, a smaller gold cup, was awarded to the Sears, Roebuck & Co. display, the handiwork of Frank Osterhoudt, their advertising display manager.

The third prize, a silver cup, was awarded to Safford & Scudder.

Honorable Mention

In addition to the three main prizes awarded, Mr. Fein announced that the judges had decided that honorable mention for displays of exceptional merit should be made of George Gotelli, Nekos Bros., Elston's Sport Shop, London's Juvenile Shop and the L. S. Winne Co.

The display windows of the House of Flowers, winning first place, were marked by simplicity of design. One window showed a bowl of chrysanthemums and a pot of ferns, against a background of gold tapestry hangings. The other window showed a modernistic panel design with white lettering on black. The message utilized orchids, roses, a corsage, etc., at several points in place of words.

The Sears windows, which also emphasized simplicity, showed a modern kitchen and a display of radios. The kitchen, all in white with the exception of the linoleum on the floor and a window at the rear with neutral drapes, showed an electric range, refrigerator and modern sink, all in white enamel. The Safford & Scudder window, winning third place, showed an attractive display of gold decorated china and sterling silverware. The centerpiece was a bridge luncheon set of gold decorated china, while near it stood a tray bearing an after dinner coffee set of the same ware. Small pieces of gold decorated ware and flowers in gold vases completed the display.

One of the most popular displays, which received honorable mention, was that of the L. S. Winne Co. In one window they showed a colonial living room, with fire place in which burned a fire of white birch logs, with complete equipment of andirons, shovel and tong set, etc. Old daguerreotypes decorated the walls and on the colonial mantel stood candlesticks and other appropriate ornaments while an old rocker stood before the fireplace. The other window showed a hunter's cabin, with stone fireplace, all conceivable kinds of equipment scattered about the cabin and skins and stuffed birds decorating the walls.

Others receiving honorable mention were: Gotelli's fruit store, which showed baskets of exceptionally fine apples, pears, peaches, etc. Nearly all of the fruit shown was Ulster county fruit and they certainly were beautiful specimens. London's Juvenile Shop showed youngsters of varying ages fully equipped for fall and winter, with clothes for various occasions. Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums were used to complete their display.

Elston's Sport Shop featured a display of footballs and basketballs in one window; the other showed a camping scene, with a scantily clad hunter bending over a small fire while near him hung the sign, "Yes, he needs a hunting suit."

Nekos Bros. displayed homemade candles, featuring in one window specimens of realistic "make believe" ham, bologna, etc.

Basia of Awards

Inasmuch as many have wondered as to just how the judges arrived at their decisions in making their awards, the following table of scoring points will probably be of interest:

Points
Power to attract attention..... 20
Appropriateness of display..... 20
Sales power of display..... 30
Arrangement of display..... 30	Window Lighting..... 10	It is explained that the second item, appropriateness, refers to the extent to which the display harmonizes with the article intended to be advertised, its seasonableness, its tie-up with national advertising, etc.
